TEUTONS CUTTING OFF THE RUSSIAN RETREAT

Lublin-Chelm Railway Now In Hands of Invaders and Situation is Serious.

ENTIRE POPULACE SAID TO BE FLEEING FROM WARSAW AS MAIN BODY OF RUSS FALL BACK

German Air Scouts Report Russian Army Marching East From Warsaw, But Rear Guard Still Holds the Polish Capital—All Railroads in Southern Russia Now in Hands of Enemy—Russian Losses Expected to be Heavy.

By Associated Press.

London, July 31. — Austro-German cavalry have entered Lublin. Official announcement to this effect from Vienna, supplementing German claims of last night that the Russian grip along this southern front had been broken, indicates that the important Lublin-Chelm railway now is strongly held by the invaders, cutting off one line of retreat for the Russian forces in southern Poland.

Meantime, General von Buelow continues his drive toward Vilna, seeking to cut the northern railway from Warsaw to Petrograd, and the predicament of the Russian armies, seeking to withdraw intact from Warsaw, unless the main forces already are around this district, becomes more perilous.

Warsaw's 800,000 inhabitants laden with such household articles and supplies of food as they can carry, are fleeing the city towards the east, and every dispatch from Russia makes guarded reference to some phase of the evacuation of the city.

Official announcement of its abandonment, which even now may be a fact, has not been forthcoming. The slender hope of the allied countries that the Germans might be held is dissipated and military writers are debating over Grand Duke Nicholas' chance of extricating his armies from a hard pinched triangle without disaster.

Besides the capture of Lublin and the seizure of the railway, the German forces have crossed the Vistula river between Warsaw and Ivanogorod, and the problem for the Russians to hold their wings north and south of Warsaw while the center retreats, becomes acute. It was argued that the conduct of this retreat without great loss would entail the necessity of the Lublin-Chelm front holding firm.

Geneva, Switzerland, via Paris, July 31.—German aviators, returning to their lines after a flight over Warsaw, reported that they clearly saw the Russian troops evacuating the Polish capital, marching toward the east, says a dispatch received today by the Geneva Tribune from Innsbruck.

London, July 31.—By the occupation of Lublin, 95 miles southwest of Warsaw the Austrians have cut the Russians' all important means of communication, connecting the whole southern Russian front between the Vistula and the Bug rivers.

Geneva dispatches say all the railways in south Russia have been in the hands of the Austrians since yesterday. The Russians have battled desperately to prevent the Teutonic allies from gaining possession of the Ivangorod-Lublin-Chelm Railroad, which for some distance parallels the Vistula river.

POPE'S PLEA IS REJECTED

London, July 31.—Pope Benedict's plea for an "arranging of aspirations" finds no response in the British Press, which rejects, as the West Minister Gazette puts it, "the implication of the pope that we all equally are involved in a fratricidal struggle, and that all in equal degree are responsible for the origin and outcome of this strife."

"We had no choice in the matter in August, 1914," says the newspaper, "and we have no choice in the matter now."

WOULD KIDNAP THE BRIDEGROOM

Harbor Point, Mich., July 31.—More than 300 guests from all parts of the country are here for the marriage at four o'clock this afternoon of Catherine Barker, of Michigan City, and Howard H. Spaulding, Jr., of Chicago. Miss Barker is said to possess a fortune of between $20,000,000 and $30,000,000.

Some excitement was caused by a report that Miss Barker had received a threatening letter, stating that unless she pay $75,000 immediately Mr. Spaulding would be kidnapped. The Barker residence is under guard.

SPECIAL SESSION IS URGED

By Associated Press.

Columbus, July 31.—Urgent suggestion that Governor Willis call a special session of the legislature to consider inter-state freight rates on coal, was presented to the governor's office today by John Moore, president of the Ohio United Mine Workers.

Although the governor was out of the city, it was said at his office that he probably would not consider seriously calling a special session of the legislature.

Net gain of $2,898,000 in tax valuations is shown in reports to the state tax commission from 38 counties compiled today. Among the increases were Richland county, $1,072,000. Among the decreases was Fayette county, $294,000.

ORDER IS RESTORED

By Associated Press.

Washington, July 31. — Reports from the American legation at Port Au Prince, Haiti, say the city is quiet, and the disarming of natives is going on.

With 400 marines and two months supply of provisions, the battleship Connecticut sailed today from Philadelphia for Port Au Prince, where the two American blue jackets were killed by natives Thursday night in an attack. The marines will help maintain order in the Haitian city.

When the Haitians resisted the landing of Rear Admiral Caperton's bluejackets and marines Thursday six of the natives were killed and two wounded in the fighting. Rear Admiral Caperton made this report today, and forecasts further revolutionary disturbances on the island.

San Antonio, Texas, July 31.—The reoccupation of Mexico City last night by Constitutional troops under General Pablo Gonzales, was reported in a telegram received here today by a Carranza representative.

AMERICANS IN JAIL OLD GLORY INSULTED

Mexicans Using High Handed Methods in Terror Ridden Capital—U. S. Official Is Attacked, Official Documents Opened and American Flag Torn to Shreds—Cats and Dogs Form Means of Sustenance—Zapata to Kill Spaniards—Intervention by U. S. Desired by Many Mexicans.

By Associated Press.

Mexico City, Saturday, July 24, via wireless telegraph from Steamship City of Tampico to Galveston, July 31.—Paul Hildson, president of the Herald Publishing Company of Mexico City, an American citizen, together with members of his family and the staff of his paper, are prisoners in Mexico City and threatened with court martial.

The charges against Mr. Hildson have not been set forth, and it is not known what fate awaits him.

Allen Mallory, an American, has been assaulted by followers of Zapata while carrying diplomatic correspondence. At the time of this attack Mr. Mallory was carrying an American flag, which was torn and insulted by his Mexican assailants.

Zapata personally destroyed the correspondence taken from Mr. Mallory. He broke the legation seals, saying at the same time that the Americans were fools.

The Brazilian minister made an effort to obtain the release of Mr. Hildson, but he was openly flouted. Governmental control is lacking in Mexico City and terror prevails.

Swiss and Spanish citizens have been removed in autos and ordered executed. The resident foreigners are greatly alarmed.

Zapata is quoted as having said that he intended to kill the local Spaniards. The food situation in Mexico City is desperate. Starvation is abroad and the people are eating cats and dogs. Even some of the foreign residents are starving.

Certain Mexicans are appealing to the Brazilian minister for intervention by the United States. The foreigners feel that their position is particularly precarious, for the reason that they are unable to appeal to any authority. The governor of the federal district treats them with contempt.

GERMAN U-BOAT TORPEDOES LINER; AMERICAN IS KILLED

By Associated Press.

London, July 31.—The Leyland liner Iberian has been sunk by a German submarine. Five members of the crew were killed, two died aboard the rescue boat and 61 were landed safely.

Four of the seven men killed are said to have been Americans. The casualties were caused by shell fire. The submarine then torpedoed the liner and the vessel went to the bottom.

Washington, July 31.—The case of the four Americans killed in the shelling of the Iberian turns on whether the ship was warned by the German submarine, and whether she attempted to escape. State Department officials had no details today, but took steps to get a report.

In the case of the Armenian, the United States held that the Americans on the ship lost their protection of their government when it attempted to escape after being warned to stop.

Washington, July 31.—Only one American, a muleteer named Whyley, was killed when the British steamer Iberian was shelled and sunk by a German submarine.

American Consul Frost at Queens-town reported today that the Iberian disregarded the submarine's warning to stop. Later the German commander gave the crew time to take to the boats before firing a torpedo.

Whyley died of shock and wounds from shells.

GERMAN REPLY TRANSMITTED

Berlin, July 31.—Germany's reply to the American note regarding the sinking of the American ship, William P. Frye, was transmitted to Washington last night.

Five Hundred More Marines Ordered to the Negro Republic as a Result of the Attack—Admiral Caperton Assumes Full Military Control of Affairs at Port au Prince — Latest Developments.

Washington, July 31.—Two American bluejackets were killed during an attack by Haitians upon the American forces now in occupation of Port au Prince. Admiral Caperton reported this to the navy department. He added that the attack was easily repulsed and that there is no cause for alarm as to the safety of the American forces or foreign residents of Port au Prince.

As a result of this attack, disclosing the seriousness of the situation with which Admiral Caperton is dealing, 500 more marines are being sent to

CZAR TRIES TO PRESERVE HIS ARMIES

Faces Problem of Quitting Poland Without Losing Forces.

LINE OF RETREAT THREATENED

London, July 31.—Dispatches from the eastern front state that the Russians now are facing the problem of evacuating Russian Poland without losing their armies, while the Austro-German forces are making a supreme effort to get across their line of retreat. The Teutons are said to have met with partial success in this attempt, a Berlin official report stating that Field Marshal Von Mackensen, resuming the offensive, had reached the Chelm-Lublin railway, about midway between those two cities, and that southeast of this, as far as the Bug river, the Russian front had been shaken.

The success of General Von Mackensen in getting across this railway, after having been virtually stopped by the Russian counter attack, denies at least one line of retreat to the Russians who might still be between him and Warsaw, and also places the Germans in a position to move against the Bug river front should this be decided upon.

British military circles, however, refuse to believe that Grand Duke Nicholas, commander-in-chief of the Russian forces, has not provided for all contingencies or that he was not fairly sure of the safety of his troops before indicating to the world that he had decided to take up a new line. Indeed, the news contained in the Berlin official statement that the Germans have crossed the Vistula river southeast of Warsaw, between the Filica river and Koszenice, lends the military writers to the belief that the Russians already have fallen back in this region and that perhaps even the fortress of Ivangorod has been left to its fate.

According to dispatches received here, the country around Warsaw, which the Russians are leaving to the invaders has been put to the torch, while the city itself has been denuded of everything that might be of use to the Germans.

As soon as the present operations against Russia are concluded, whether or not they succeed in destroying any large part of the Russian army, it is expected that the Germans will turn to the west. It will therefore, be a race between the Teutonic forces and the British and French as to which side will take the offensive in France, where the situation remains as it has been for weeks past, except in Alsace, where the French continue their attacks on the positions protecting Muenster.

A Rome dispatch says: "The Austrians attacked the Italians at Gorizia with 170,000 men, including 30,000 Bavarians, on the night of July 28, with disastrous results. The Austrian losses numbered 12,000. On the following day a fierce Austrian attack on Carso plateau also was repulsed. The Italians hold all the positions they have captured in the last fifteen days except the advanced trenches before Gorizia, which have been evacuated."

COAL OPERATORS REJECT PROPOSAL

Columbus, July 31.—Two proposals, both looking to have the interstate commerce commission take up the matter of coal rates with a view to determining a proper differential between Ohio and other nearby fields, were submitted by the railroads of Ohio to the coal operators of the state at a conference here. Both were rejected by the operators. The committee of fourteen, each side having seven members, reported a failure to agree. It is practically discharged.

AIR ATTACKS BY THE FRENCH

Paris, July 31.—An extensive series of air raids is reported in the French official communique. From the most northerly section of the battle line in Belgium to Alsace the French aviators dropped bombs on military positions, railroad stations and factories producing war material. In one of these raids the flying squadron consisted of forty aeroplanes, the object of which was to bombard the German petroleum works near Wissembourg, northeast of Strasbourg. Another squadron of ten aeroplanes made a raid on an asphyxiating gas factory at Dornach, in Alsace.

A desperate battle is reported in progress in the Vosges. The Germans delivered a counter attack in an effort to retake Barrenkopf. The sustained fire of the French guns broke down this attack, but the fighting continues.

LOADED COAL CARS DROP ON MEN BENEATH

Nine Killed and Score Injured at a Pennsylvania Mine.

Pittsburgh, July 31.—Two score of section men were repairing a spur on the tracks of the Pittsburgh and Lake Erie railroad at Patterson mine No. 2 of the United Coal company, at Lovendale Hollow, near West Elizabeth, when without warning twenty loaded coal cars crashed down upon them, killing nine of their number and injuring eighteen others. Among the dead is Samuel P. Daugherty, forty-three, superintendent of the mine. The other victims were mostly foreigners. Six of the victims were killed instantly and three later died in the McKeesport hospital, where they had been taken with ten others, who are reported to be in a serious condition. Several other victims left the scene of the accident without their identity being learned after they had received medical attention.

Twenty cars had been started down the steep incline of several hundred feet toward the tipples from the mouth of the mine, heavily loaded with coal. When about thirty feet from the mouth of the mine the train of cars was released, when a large cable suddenly snapped and the cars started on a wild dash down the steep plane.

Today's Sanitation

Undoubtedly there has never been a time in the world when proper sanitation received the attention now given to it. There may have been marble baths and retinues of servants to personally direct cleanliness in the days of luxurious Rome and classic Greece, but the cleanliness which is the keynote of sanitation today is a different matter. Genuine cleanliness includes the air we breathe, the food we eat as well as our surroundings, and involves the health of the community no less than that of the individual. It is by no means merely the selfish consideration of personal welfare without regard for health interests which may affect others.

It is the continual fighting of those germs which endanger health and the providing of surroundings which will forbid their growth.

Clean air, with the necessary amount of oxygen to change the sluggish blood as it comes from the veins to the lungs, is the great preventative of ills. Dust in the air is frequently a cause of respiratory troubles, such as bronchitis, pneumonia and tuberculosis, acting as an irritant to the air passages.

Sunlight is the best possible purifier and in the summer time homes are more apt to be better ventilated and more healthful than in the winter, when they are often too tightly closed.

The campaign against the fly has done wonders in doing away with this dangerous little breeder of disease and the mosquito is far less active than formerly. Bad drains, defective plumbing, both active carriers of fatal diseases, and all other impurities of like class have led to such frightful results that they are no longer carelessly ignored until it is too late to undo harm.

Next to air, water is the most important of all substances necessary to human life and polluted water or infected milk are grave menaces that are no longer lightly overlooked.

The generations of today ought to be far healthier than ancestors of earlier times, for every means of fighting germs and conditions is placed within their reach.

Today the medical staff of an army or navy is more concerned with preserving the health of its men than in caring for those ill or wounded in service, although that is also conscientiously done.

If, on a smaller scale, the same knowledge and care were used in homes that is used by medical science in making Havana and Panama healthful; if the same effort were exerted to provide conditions that would refuse the disease-germ spreading, that is now used to restore to health; if sanitation prevails positively, not negatively, constructive, the community welfare will be greatly benefitted by prevalent good health.

Poetry For Today

A TALK TO THE BOY.

Come, boy, to your dad. Let me tell you some things
 Of the man who loved me as I'm now loving you,
 For the heart is a pendulum heavy that swings
 Aye forward and back as all pendulums do.
 And tonight mine has swung far away to the time
 When your dad had a dad, just as you have, my son—
 A dad to whose arms I was welcome to climb
 When his day in the cornfield or meadow was done.

I crept into arms that were stronger, my lad,
 And his hands—oh, so tender! were harder than mine.
 For the world had been harsh with the dad of your dad,
 Yet I wish that my soul were as gently and fine
 As the one roughly clad in that body of his,
 That so lavishly gave of his strength for one
 Who now shelters you. And my prayer's burden is
 That you may think thus of your father, my son.

What I've gained I have gained—his the heavier cost;
 He in embryo held all things I have done;
 Yet I fear—gravelly fear—there are things I have lost
 That sadly diminish the triumph, my son.
 So lie close, little man—there's so little we know,
 Except that I love you and you can love me.
 And I smile with content that you're loving me so,
 And am glad in that love, as my dad used to be.
 —Strickland W. Gillian.

American Nations Should Unite For Mutual Protection

By CLAUDIO WILLIMAN, Former President of Uruguay

I WOULD favor a union of American countries with the object of protecting their mutual rights out of which would grow a spirit of joint action which would force the respect and consideration which is due them and consequently insure American peace.

Historical and political reasons incline me to the belief that for the present it would not be advisable for the European countries to form part of the union, which I think, however, would be advantageous to the American countries. THIS, NOTWITHSTANDING THAT SUCH AN ARRANGEMENT WOULD BE RECOGNIZED THEORETICALLY AS IDEALLY COSMOPOLITAN, FOR THE REASON THAT THE APPLICATION OF THIS UNIVERSAL FORMULA WOULD BE THE HIGHEST ASPIRATION OF INTERNATIONAL RIGHTS IN THE FUTURE.

SUNKEN OIL RESERVOIRS.

Fuel Tanks For Submarines Hidden at the Bottom of the Sea.

Hidden reservoirs of oil fuel for submarines anchored on the bottom of the sea have been suspected by the British to be the means by which German submarines have been able to operate far from the apparent bases of supply, and, though there is no proof that the German submarines are using such hidden reservoirs or would even have any need of them, it has become known that such reservoirs have been constructed in a way which makes them practical.

The reservoir is a steel cylinder of varying size up to 150 feet long with several compartments filled with oil fuel and some compartments designed to hold sea water or air, as may be desired. The cylinder is towed to the hiding place and sunk by filling some compartments with sea water. An inconspicuous float on the surface marks the place where the cylinder is sunk.

To take oil from the cylinder the submarine crew locate the float and pull it up, bringing with it a flexible pipe. Air is then pumped into the pipe, and the air forces the water out of the compartments of the cylinder, causing the whole outfit to come to the surface. An oil supply hose from the submarine is then attached to a valve on the side of the oil tank, and the oil is pumped to the submarine. After a supply is taken water is again allowed to flow into the cylinder, which then sinks to its place on the bottom.—Saturday Evening Post.

How Baseball Follows the Flag.

Ten years ago, says the Panama Star and Herald, the small boys of the canal zone played at bullfighting. Now they have lost their ambition to become slayers of bulls and want to become great baseball players. The national game has followed the flag, conquering the brutal sport that preceded it. The Panamanian boy has even translated baseball slang into Spanish, according to the Herald. "At a recent game," it says, "we heard a Panamanian boy say in Spanish, 'Bunt, man; bunt; now is the time to bunt.' The boy was right, and the batter did it. No boy ever got more joy and excitement out of the death of a bull than that boy did out of that bunt."—Outlook.

Ten Wars in Eighteen Years.

The historian of the twentieth century, which was ushered in with the thunder of South African battlefields, will have to record eight wars in the first fifteen years of its span. These eight are the following:

Boer war, Russo-Japanese war, Franco-Moroccan war, Italian-Turkish war, the two Balkan wars, the war in Mexico and the pending European war, greatest of all time.

If we add the two wars with which the nineteenth century closed—the Greco-Turkish war of 1897 and the Spanish-American war of 1898—we have a record of ten wars in eighteen years.—St. Louis Post-Dispatch.

The Dutch Army.

Every Dutch citizen is liable to personal service in the army (or navy) from the age of nineteen to forty. Actual service in the ranks is determined by lot, but substitution is not permitted. The peace strength of the Netherlands army—that is, the permanent staffs of all the units of the first line—amounted in 1913 to 1,543 officers and 21,412 noncommissioned officers and men. The total strength of the field army is approximately 125,000 men, with 152 guns.

Girls Must Carry Books on Backs.

The schoolgirl of Berlin must not carry her books in a hand bag, but in a knapsack on her back. The minister of education is responsible for this new rule. The rule is directed to teachers, parents and the girls themselves. The minister declares that the habit of carrying books in hand bags is likely to lead to curvature of the spine and derangement of internal organs.

Dekker the Dramatist.

Very few persons except those interested in literary matters ever heard of Thomas Dekker, a dramatist of the sixteenth century, yet at a recent New York auction his autograph brought $755—the highest price received for any item in a large collection.

What Constitutes Wealth

A Persian Philosopher — who albeit a Philosopher was very wise in the things of this world—when asked as to what constituted wealth replied: "To constitute wealth there must be three gifts. No. 1, Money. No. 2, More Money. No. 3, Still More Money." There is more in this than appears to the casual eye. First, let us say, open a Bank Account at the Fayette County Bank with a little Money. Add to it and you will have More Money. Continue adding to it and you will have Still More Money—and before you know it, you have WEALTH.

—Labor and Thrift are the Cornerstones upon which the Structures of Success and Wealth are erected.

Street Sewers in China Mend Torn Garments While You Wait.

In many towns of China one may have his garments mended on the street and "while he waits." Native sewing women are to be seen on low stools perhaps on the sidewalks mending articles of masculine attire.

The accomplishments of these street seamstresses are somewhat limited, their efforts with the needle being for the most part confined to "running." Other branches of needlework are practically unknown to them. As a consequence their efforts are better appreciated by native workmen than by foreign travelers.

They are never short of patrons among the former, for these are often natives of other districts and, having come to the city to engage in business, have no one to mend a rent for them. Their wives being left at home, they are glad to avail themselves of the services of the street needlewomen. For this class of customers the skill of the itinerant sewing women answers every purpose.

Generally speaking, these women are wives of boatmen and laborers who live in the houseboats which line the creeks of many Chinese cities and towns, and their needles are a great help toward the solution of the problem of maintenance in a crowded city or town.—Washington Star.

A Cruel Comparison.

"I don't make much," said the fond suitor. "My salary is $30 a week. Could we live on that, dear?"
 "Ah," sighed the maiden dreamily, "just the price of a tire for father's motorcar."
 Then something told the f. s. that he was wasting time.

Era of the Battleship In Naval Warfare Has Passed Away

By VICTOR AUGAGNEUR, French Minister of Marine

THE underwater craft has revolutionized all the old theories, and for the present no very effective method of fighting this new weapon has been devised. TEN MONTHS OF WAR HAVE COMPLETELY CHANGED ALL THE BELIEFS WHICH HAD BEEN HELD REGARDING THE POSSIBLE ACTION OF THE FLEET.

You know very well that all the general staffs were still under the impressions caused by the Russo-Japanese war and as regards naval war theories under that of the battle of Tsushima. They all believed in the necessity of being prepared for great encounters between squadrons ever more powerful.

OLD FRENCH FLATS ARE PURCHASED BY C. L. CRAIG

Another Epoch in the Interesting History of the Site Occupied By the Old Brick Tenement Houses on Water Street—Sale Results From Damage Inflicted By Tornado a Few Weeks Ago.

Mr. Clyde L. Craig has purchased the old "French Flats," on Water street, and will rearrange and rebuild them for residences. This property is an old land mark, being first used as a distillery where the juice of the corn was distilled. The offal from the distillery along the creek bank south of the distillery soon proved an offensive nuisance, causing the abandonment of the industry. Next, two citizens, Messrs Addison Hybee and Hicks Shoemaker, established a hub, spoke and handle factory in the buildings. The quality and finish of their goods were superior to any in the market, the Roger Wheel Company of Cincinnati being a close second. In addition to the United States government orders they soon had a business much too large for their capital and could not continue. They were succeeded by Thomas B. Thornton and Lenox Campbell. The property shortly afterward passed into the hands of Isaac Vandeman and W. F. Dews, who operated a woolen mill in the structure. This enterprise was succeeded by the Dayton & Southeastern, narrow gauge) railroad company, who used it for a passenger and freight station under the agency of Mr. William P. Barnes. Later the building was used for a grain elevator owned by James F. Ely and Albert M. Stinson. On September 8, 1885 a tornado demolished everything of every kind that had been accumulating on the site of the flats. Tenement houses (French Flats) were erected, and occupied, until the recent tornado, which badly damaged them.

BIDS ON PAVING IMPROVEMENTS ARE SUBMITTED

Bids were received by City Service Director Charles Gerstner at noon Saturday for the paving of West Court street, East street and the Craig-Penn alley.

The Andrews Paving Company, of Hamilton, O., S. T. Knight, of Columbus, and G. H. Heffner & Son, of Celina, O., were the bidders on the Court and East street jobs, and J. S. Wilt, of Washington C. H., on the Craig-Penn alley.

The awarding of contracts will take place some time next week.

The course of the improvements in question are as follows: West Court street, from Hinde to the intersection of Court with Leesburg and Clinton avenues; East street, from Main street to Washington avenue; Craig-Penn alley, from East street to the intersection with Columbus and Washington avenues.

LEARNED THE GAME IN OLD FAYETTE

A few days ago a local man wrote to the W. J. Jamison Company, of Chicago, for some artificial bait to coax the better class of fish from their damp retreats.

The letter that came back was from Mr. Jamison himself, who stated that he was born in Fayette county and spent part of his life here, learning to coax the fish out of the streams, and that he frequently landed some big ones in the old mill race here.

He has invented a large variety of artificial bait and the biggest championship fishing contests of the country have been won by bait manufactured by Mr. Jamison.

Mr. Ben Jamison of this city is an uncle of the noted fisherman.

PRIMARY ELECTION TUESDAY, AUG. 10

The primary election in this city is near at hand, coming Tuesday, August 10th, and so far very little interest has developed in the approaching event, although several of the candidates are now making a canvass for votes.

So far the campaign—if it could be called such—has been unusually quiet.

NEW OFFICIAL TAKES OFFICE

Tonight at the midnight hour, Mr. Oliver S. Nelson succeeds Mr. Frank M. Allen as superintendent of the rural and village schools of Fayette county.

While Mr. Allen's term in office really expires tonight, Mr. Nelson will not assume charge of the office until Monday morning, when he will be found at his office in the Court House where he will be actively engaged in preparing for the opening of schools in September.

COMMISSIONERS DO NOT AGREE ON SALARY

When a bill for $60 salary for the court house janitor came up for consideration at the meeting of the county commissioners, Saturday morning, a disagreement resulted in Commissioners Perrill and Brown approving the bill and Commissioner Weaver refusing to approve, stating that the new janitor had been employed at $50 per month and not $60.

Mr. Weaver argued that the former janitor drew $50 and that inasmuch as the salary had been fixed at $50 the amount should stand at $50 per month.

Mr. Brown argued that the work was worth $60 per month. The bill was allowed.

U. S. CAN'T STOP MUNITIONS OF WAR SAYS HON. S. D. FESS

"This country cannot forbid the exportation of munitions of war without being guilty of an act of unneutrality," said Congressman Fess in speaking before a Greene county audience Thursday.

Continuing he said:

"The allies control the seas, and should this country, by an edict, forbid the exportation of munitions to the allies she would favor Germany by weakening the strength of the allies. Under international law, this could be interpreted as an act favoring Germany.

"Neutral rights are not defined by national law, but by international law. No matter what this country should wish to do as a nation, she must obey the well defined provisions of international law.

"In view of our situation under international law, the president should be supported in what he has done. Thus far the negotiations between the two countries have been diplomatic, but the president's last note to Germany is really final. We are left to wait to see how Germany will regard it. In other words, it is 'Germany's next move.'

"I think the situation is pretty critical. I do not think Congress ought to be called into special session because of the consequences. Congressmen would begin making speeches, and the people would get excited, making the situation hard to handle. I think the president can handle the situation better than can congress."

THE WASHINGTON DAIRY LUNCH

Will occupy the Arlington Hotel dining room on and after August 1st. Our present location is good and business is splendid, but on account of poor ventilation we are moving to a well ventilated room, where one can enjoy a good meal. We will have a larger seating capacity and also be equipped to give you better and quicker service. It will be run on the same plan—self service or table service.

We thank you for your past patronage and hope you will find us in our new location.

The DAIRY LUNCH

In Social Circles

The spacious country home of Mr. and Mrs. J. B. Mark, at Glendon was the scene of an ideally pretty home wedding at half past eight o'clock Saturday morning, when the only daughter, Katharine, plighted her troth to Mr. Bruce King, only son of Mr. and Mrs. John King, south of town.

The marriage was the sequence to an acquaintance begun in the local high school, of which both are graduates.

The bride is an exceptionally bright and attractive girl, as well as an accomplished musician and both young people have been favorites with a large circle of friends, old and young.

The bridegroom, who was President of his class and prominent in various school activities, supplemented his high school course with a course at the Ohio State University and now is engaged with his father in the management of their farms.

It was a wedding as informal and simple as it was artistic. Feathery asparagus and pink and white cosmos combined in graceful decoration throughout the large rooms.

An immense jardiniere of cosmos rested upon the newel post and the stairway was hidden beneath the asparagus.

Thirty-five relatives and intimate young friends witnessed the ring ceremony performed by Rev. J. A. Shaffer, the bride's pastor at the Mt. Carmel church, of which church she has been the pianist.

The wedding music was beautifully played by the young sister of the bridegroom, Miss Lorie King, and just before the ceremony Miss Daisy Cockerill, his aunt, sang effectively "Because" and "I Love Thee Truly."

The minister awaited the bridal party in front of the living room mantel, banked high with asparagus, starred with cosmos, and it was a beautiful bridal tableau which formed against the greenery.

Mr. and Mrs. Hays Dill, at whose wedding in June this morning's bride and bridegroom were maid of honor and best man, reciprocated by filling the role of matron of honor and best man.

Charlene Mark, a darling little niece of the bride, in her frock of pink crepe de chine and big maline hair bow, led the way, carrying the ring in a gold basket, decorated with pink baby ribbon and sweet peas.

Following her, to the strains of the Mendelssohn march came the bridegroom and best man, preceding the matron of honor. The bride, who is an extremely pretty girl of the blonde type, looked very girlish and sweet in her wedding gown. It was of white crepe de chine, made in a youthful fashion, with double flounced skirt and bolero of Spanish lace, the low bodice and sleeves finished with tulle plaitings. She carried a beautiful shower bouquet of roses and lilies of the valley.

The matron of honor was lovely in an elaborate gown of pink flowered silk, with chiffon bodice, and black velvet girdle, singularly becoming to her brunette coloring.

The carried an armful of pink roses.

Miss Cockerill sang "Until the End of Time" after the nuptial blessing.

Immediately after congratulations an elaborate wedding breakfast of three courses was served. Seated around the bridal table, with the bridal party were the parents and Rev. and Mrs. Shaffer.

An immense crystal basket of pink and white cosmos, artistically arranged, adorned the table and smaller crystal baskets of sweet peas, the smaller tables, at which were seated the remainder of the guests.

Mr. and Mrs. King left amid a shower of rice, on the B. & O. 10:36 for a wedding trip on the lakes.

The bride's going away gown was of dark green poplin, with full turban to match.

There was a very handsome array of wedding gifts.

Mr. and Mrs. King will be at home after September the first at "Paint's Side Farm." Both young people belong to families well known and widely connected and good wishes galore will follow them to their new home.

In compliment to Miss Gail Bodenheimer, of Columbus, Mr. Edwards Hopkins delightfully entertained twenty young people Friday evening. Summer flowers embellished the handsome home and victrola and piano music added to the pleasure of the evening.

Delicious punch all evening and a dainty repast were served.

Mr. and Mrs. Austin F. Hopkins assisted their son in the hospitalities.

Miss Helen Knight of Columbus, and Miss McVey of Oxford, were out of town guests.

Rev. Wm. Boynton Gage was a visitor in Columbus Saturday.

Mr. and Mrs. Bennett King are spending Sunday with Mrs. King's mother, Mrs. J. R. Conner near Jeffersonville. Their daughter Miss Florence, accompanies them home from a week's visit.

Mrs. Albert S. Glascock and little daughter Georgiana, Mrs. Frank C. Parrett, left Saturday for Russell's Point, to join Mr. Glascock and Mr. Parrett who are spending a few days at that summer resort.

Mr. and Mrs. W. L. Barr and little granddaughter Betty Barr were up from Greenfield Friday, the guests of Mr. and Mrs. Frank E. Haines.

Miss Mary Crow, of Xenia, and Miss Lucy Warnock, of Jeffersonville are the week end guests of Miss Ruth Davenport.

Mr. W. W. Westerfield left Saturday afternoon for his home in New Orleans, La. He expects to return later in the summer.

Rev. Harry Hadley returned to his charge at Martin's Ferry Friday evening, after a visit with his parents, Hon. and Mrs. H. L. Hadley.

Mr. and Mrs. Jay Trobridge and daughter Miss Louise, of Columbus, are the guests of Mr. and Mrs. Howard Griffiths.

Misses Anna and Lizzie Bell have returned from a visit with their niece, Mrs. Horace Miller, in Middletown.

Miss Mayne McCall goes to her home in Jackson Sunday for a two week's vacation.

Miss May Millikan arrived from Lexington, Ky., Saturday evening for an indefinite stay with her brother, Mr. W. W. Millikan, and family.

Mrs. J. C. Bliss returned to her home in Chillicothe Saturday evening after a visit with her sister, Miss Susanne Lannius. Miss Lannius and Miss Virginia Campbell accompanied her home for a short stay.

Mrs. Mary Patton is spending a few days with her granddaughter, Mrs. Robert Schenk, in Dayton.

Miss Edith Spray and Miss Bertha Townsley are spending a few days the guests of Misses Ruthen and Helen Hanna, of Madison Mills.

Mrs. Henry Hixon, sons Paul, Ralph and daughter Alice returned Saturday from a visit with Mrs. Hixon's mother, Mrs. Elizabeth Lukken, in Cincinnati.

Rev. Bowman Hosteler will preach at Pleasant View, in the Church of Christ, Sunday evening.

Mrs. Charles Cullen and little daughter Elizabeth Anne, returned Friday night from a two months' visit with Mrs. Cullen's mother in Dahlhart, Texas.

Mr. and Mrs. E. N. Holloway have returned from an Eastern trip and stay at Virginia Beach, Md.

Dr. J. F. Dennis has returned from a visit in Toledo.

Mrs. Hunt and son Edward left Friday evening for their home in Adairville, Ky., after a visit with Mr. and Mrs. R. C. Hunt.

Mr. George Weaver and family were over from Xenia to attend the wedding of Mrs. Weaver's niece, Miss Katharine Mark, and Mr. Bruce King.

Prof. F. M. Peters, formerly High school principal, wife and daughter Sarah are week end guests of Mr. and Mrs. Cary Cripps and Prof. and Mrs. O. K. Probasco, for a few days while on a motoring trip from their present home in Celina, Kansas.

Mrs. Martha Patton returns to Dayton Sunday, after a visit with her mother, Mrs. Backenstoe. Mr. Hugh Smith and family and Mrs. Backenstoe motor over with her.

PROVISIONS ARE COMING IN SLOWLY

Five dollars in money and a market basket full of provisions was the extent of the increase in contributions to the relief of southern Ohio miners received at the Y. M. C. A. Saturday. The accumulation of the four days since the appeal was sent out by the governor, would not begin to fill an eighth of the carload the local relief workers had set out to accomplish by Monday.

The committee, however, is not dispirited. It is confident that the appeals, to be made from all local pulpits Sunday morning and to the mass meeting on the court house lawn in the evening, will bring good results. The Rev. William Boynton Gage is to address the mass meeting.

SWIMMING LESSONS TO BE RESUMED MONDAY

The following statement was issued Saturday by the Women's Gym Class:

Owing to a great many difficulties developing at the out-door swimming pool it has become necessary to confine the use of it exclusively to the Ladies' Gym Class.

"At the beginning of the season, Mr. Clarence Baer very kindly turned the pool (which is private property) over to the Gym Class, as a ladies' pool, and beginning Monday the girls' and ladies' regular classes will be resumed and all men and boys will be excluded with the exception of George O'Brian and an able assistant.

"The class has secured George O'Brian as a paid instructor and he will take charge of all classes, permitting no one to enter the pool outside regular classes. There will be a slight change in the schedule which will be announced after the meeting of the class at the Y. M. C. A. Monday night. There will be classes Monday, 4 to 5—6 to 7.

Y. M. C. A. NOTES

A telegram to Secretary Patton from Mr. Wade Laser, of Mansfield, who was to have conferred Saturday with the local Y. M. C. A. board of directors with regard to the position of physical director here, states that he has accepted a position in another city. This removes another of the several prospects.

STILL SEEKING BOLD BURGLAR

For the second time within the past few weeks the home of Chas. Lewis, on Columbus avenue, was visited by a burglar one night this week and $5 stolen from an upstairs room.

About one month ago a thief visited the Lewis residence in daytime and carried off some $12. It is supposed the same thief committed both crimes.

WORK BEGIN ON EAST COURT STREET

The work of improving East Court street by paving with asphalt was launched Saturday, when a steam plow was put to work breaking up the hard surface of the thoroughfare.

The contractor in charge expects to push the work without delay, and the new street will be watched with deep interest.

WASHINGTON AVENUE PAVING PROGRESSES

The Washington avenue paving is progressing rapidly. Brick had been laid from the corporation line as far as Ely street Saturday morning, and the cement foundation work has been carried to within a block of East street.

BUMBLEBEES PUT SOLDIERS TO FLIGHT

When Company M goes into camp at Yellow Springs, Monday, August 9th, the boys will endeavor to steer clear of a certain part of the drill field where there is an abundance of energetic bumble-bees which have just put to flight an entire company of the guardsmen now encamped at Yellow Springs.

The company was drilling Friday, when a private stepped into a big nest of bumble-bees, and an instant later ranks were broken and the big fighters scampered in all directions while the busy little bees inflicted punishment for the interruption of their erstwhile quiet life.

DEFINITE ACTION EXPECTED

Washington Administration Determined to Carry Out Promptly the Program Determined Upon—Up to Mexican Military Leaders to Avert American Invasion—Lansing Sends Representations to Warring Heads.

Washington, July 31.—When President Wilson returns to Washington next week, definite steps will be taken toward restoration of peace in Mexico.

What specific action the president may have decided on has not been disclosed, but it was authoritatively stated that the executive departments of the government were preparing to carry out promptly the program determined upon. Only an unexpected move in Mexico itself to end the strife, it is said, would further delay affirmative action by the United States to restore constitutional government in the war-torn republic.

Armed intervention is not believed to be contemplated in the president's program. Many officials believe no forceful measures will be required. Persistent reports have reached here that the faction leaders are inclined to yield to the demands of this government for a peace conference.

Reports are generally credited that a message will be sent to the opposing leaders giving them a final chance to cease hostilities within a limited time and assemble a conference to settle their differences. Possibilities of another failure to do so, in view of the refusal of General Carranza to join in a conference with his adversaries, is being considered by the president, it is declared, in formulating a plan of action. Whether in that event a general embargo on arms exportations will be imposed or American troops employed to assure transportation of food to the starving people of the country, can not be predicted. It is known, however, that the army and navy have been preparing and now are ready for any eventualities.

Secretary Lansing said that the representations sent to Generals Carranza, Villa and Zapata, urging that routes to Mexico City be opened to provision trains, were forceful. The message to Carranza, who controls the railroad from Vera Cruz, was particularly emphatic.

No answer from any of the Mexican generals has been received. It is believed, however, that provision trains will be moving to Mexico City within a few days under guard of Carranza troops.

N. Y. POLICE MAKE A HAUL

New York, July 31.—Twelve hours after Charles Becker paid with his life for the Rosenthal murder, Lieutenant "Honest Dan" Costigan and his squad—called successors to the Becker strong-arm men—raided the Flower and Feather Social Benefit club in Sixth avenue and arrested among others Jacob Lublan, whose brother Morris was an important witness for the state against the dead police lieutenant. The "club" was raided with axes, ladders and crowbars as a gambling house. "Dollar John" Langer, once the close friend of Rosenthal in the tenderloin gambling fraternity, is said to be the club's financial backer.

STABILITY LEAGUE SMASHES RECORDS

Columbus, July 31.—Records for securing signatures on state referendum petitions were eclipsed when the Constitutional Stability league filed with the secretary of state petitions initiating an amendment to the constitution limiting elections on twice defeated constitutional proposals. The petitions carried 172,962 signatures, nearly 60,000 more than necessary. These signatures were secured in sixteen days.

CRUISER TENNESSEE RETURNS TO AMERICA

New York, July 31.—The American armored cruiser Tennessee, which has been many months in European waters distributing gold to stranded Americans and acting as a ferryboat between France and England in conveying refugees from French ports, arrived with $169,000 of the $8,000,000 in gold that she took abroad.

SEC'Y LANSING GETTING BUSY

Cornish, N. H., July 31.—Secretary of State Lansing informed President Wilson that he sent vigorous representations to Carranza, Villa and Zapata, calling upon them to restore communication between Vera Cruz and Mexico City, so as to permit the entrance of foodstuffs for the civilian population of the Mexican capital. Mr. Lansing reported to the president that recent reports from Mexico City showed that many persons there were on the verge of starvation and that immediate relief seemed to be necessary. It was the most disappointing information regarding conditions in the southern republic which has reached the president from an official quarter in considerable time.

TWO DUTCH SPIES DIE IN THE TOWER

London, July 31.—It is officially announced that two spies, subjects of Holland, who were convicted of conveying information about the fleet to the enemy, were shot at the Tower. One of the men confessed his guilt immediately after his conviction.

J. P. MORGAN HAS RECOVERED

Glencove, L. I., July 31.—J. Pierpont Morgan returned to his East island estate after a cruise in his steam yacht Corsair along the Atlantic coast. It was said at the Morgan home that Mr. Morgan was fully recovered from the wounds inflicted by Frank Holt in an attempt to assassinate him.

IS CHARGED WITH BIGAMY

Pittsburg, July 31.—Accused of marrying three widows since last November and courting the fourth when arrested, Charles H. Davis, fifty, of Spokane, Wash., is detained here, charged with bigamy. His record for marriages, according to the police, is as follows: Nov. 14, 1914, Mrs. H. A. Young, Brooklyn, N. Y.; Jan. 11, 1915, Mrs. M. L. Hines, Kansas City; July 28, 1915, Mrs. Emma Donahue, Pittsburgh. His romance with Mrs. Young began when he was fished out of East river after jumping from the Brooklyn bridge last September.

GATE OPENED TO LIABILITY FIRMS

Columbus, July 31.—Liability insurance companies are not barred from writing employers' liability insurance by the workmen's compensation law, according to a ruling of Insurance Commissioner Taggart in granting the application of three such companies to amend their licenses, granting them authority to operate in the workmen's compensation field.

PRACTICAL HEALTH HINT.

Children's Night Terrors. Writing of "night terrors," so common among children, Dr. Adolph Stern says in the New York Medical Journal that these have a deeper cause than those given in the textbooks, which are adenoids and enlarged tonsils, large or indigestible meals eaten shortly before going to bed and the telling of harrowing or terrifying stories. According to Dr. Stern, children who sit up screaming "Mother, mother!" "The black man!" "The ghost!" or even those who constantly cry for a drink of water are generally the offspring of neurotic mothers and have themselves been made neurotic by receiving too much attention, too much emotional affection by being kept too dependent, not leaning on themselves, but on others. The care for such children is to make them play with other children, to let them do things for themselves, such as dressing and bathing themselves and going to bed alone. Thus they will acquire a spirit of independence.

"Flowery" Names.

Many of the Chinese names are of a "flowery" character. The Chinese minister at Washington for many years was Wu Ting Fang, a name which signifies "fragrant place." The name of the minister to England at the same time was Lo Feng Lo, meaning "a rich harvest," while the name of the contemporary minister to France, Y. Keng, signified "much gold." The regular name for a little Chinese girl baby is "My thousand ounces of gold."

INTERESTING SESSION OF THE W. C. T. U.

The W. C. T. U. Institute held at the Staunton M. E. Church Friday, recorded itself one of the most profitable sessions of the kind ever held in the county.

Four unions, the Staunton, Sugar Grove, Washington C. H., and Good Hope, were represented in a large attendance.

Mrs. Alice Taggart, County President, called the meeting to order and Rev. Shaffer offered prayer in devotional exercises, conducted by Mrs. Alice Roberts.

Mrs. Roberts, as president of the Staunton union, gave a cordial little address of welcome.

A feature of special interest of the morning session was Mrs. Taggart's reading of "A Retrospection," supposed to have been written by the late Mrs. Hutchison, National Treasurer, and found in her Bible after her death.

Mrs. Jordon, of Wilmington, State Supt. of Anti-Narcotics, the speaker of the day, was introduced in the morning and made a little talk on the Department of Literature and Sunday school temperance work.

There were a number of informal talks; Mrs. Taggart giving a report of the temperance meeting given the opening day of the Lancaster camp meeting for the benefit of the temperance women of Southern Ohio and attended by 300; Mrs. Augusta Haines on "Flower Mission Work;" Mrs. Elva Post, "Mothers' Meetings;" Mrs. Chas. A. Stafford on the work done in the Sunday schools of Washington by the department of anti-narcotics.

Mrs. Laura Post read a leaflet written by Mrs. Frances Willard.

The noon hour was greatly enjoyed socially, an elegant basket dinner served on the screened porch of the parsonage.

Mrs. Jordon had charge of the afternoon session.

The afternoon interest centered in the able address delivered by Mrs. Jordon. She used strong illustration to show the small comparison of money spent in church aid and mission work and the necessities, such as bread, shoes, books, etc., and that expended in liquors and tobacco, making the statement that one pound of tobacco contains enough nicotine to kill almost 300 men.

Mrs. Jordon made the appalling statement that it was widely known that the white slave traffic demanded 150,000 young girls for the Panama-Pacific exposition and that every high school girl in the country with tabulated disposition and habits, was on the lists of the promoters of this illegal traffic.

The afternoon's program also included a recitation by Little Edith Williams; paper, "Who Are the Prohibition Fanatics?" Mrs. Carrie B. Willis; a vocal solo, Mrs. Mande Shoop; leaflet read by Mrs. Blanche Boyer; reading, "The Relayed Answer," Miss Ruth Mark.

Mrs. Taggart read a letter from Mrs. Florence Richards, in which she urged that ten women of each union pledge themselves to use their influence with voters opposing the dry movement constantly until the election.

Mrs. Snodgrass, the State Purity worker, will be with the county union, September 1st.

Mrs. Taggart closed the meeting by reading with much earnestness, the poem, "Get Into the Fight."

RAILROAD ISSUES LIST OF "NEVERS"

Pursuing the campaign against accidents to pedestrians in which connection instruction has been given to school children and appeals to keep away from the tracks have been made from the pulpit, the police department of the Baltimore & Ohio railroad has issued a poem "Nevers for Children," for distribution in communities reached by its rails through school authorities and other public officials.

"Never cross the tracks by night, or by day,
Without stopping to listen and look each way.

Never walk along the railroad ties—
You can't always trust your ears and eyes.

Never hop a freight, for nothing quite heals
The wound received under grinding wheels.

Never, on a hot or sunny day,
Sit beneath a box car to rest or play.

Never crawl under a car of freight,
When the crossing's blocked—play safe and wait.

Never board, or alight from, a train that is moving,
Accidents daily its dangers are proving.

Never play games 'round the tracks at the station—
There are much safer places to seek recreation.

Never leave on the rail any spikes or bars,
Because in this way you may wreck the cars.

Never a railroad bridge should you cross,
A train may come and result in your loss.

Never pick up coal 'round the railroad yard,
A train may catch you off your guard."

POTATOES DECAY YIELD IS LARGE

Many farmers report an unusually large percentage of decayed potatoes this season, probably due to the extremely wet weather.

The crop is a very heavy one, and those reporting losses by decaying in the ground, say the size of the crop will more than counterbalance the loss through decay.

REDFIELD ANSWERS ACCUSERS

By Associated Press.
Chicago, July 31.—Secretary of Commerce William C. Redfield, stirred by criticism of his inquiry into the steamer Eastland disaster by local officials, declared today he would make a thorough investigation of the entire United States steamboat inspection service here, if proper charges against individual inspectors or the department are filed.

The secretary said that both he and federal officials, whose duty it was to "give a square deal to all," had been prejudiced and "not given a chance by Chicago officials and others."

He said, "I am sorry, I am hurt and I am willing to admit it. I have been mistreated and prejudged by the Chicago press and by Chicago citizens."

"Abuse and scorn me if you feel that you must, but in God's name spare the men to whom I am trying, to the best of my ability, to give a square deal as my duty orders me to do."

HIS FOUR COURSE DINNER.
It Wasn't Very Satisfactory, Nor Were the After Effects.

Gealby, being almost a perfect reader, had no difficulty at all in reading the sign outside the restaurant.

"Four course dinner, 15 cents," Gealby read carefully.

"Cheap at half the price," he exclaimed wonderingly, and, being very hungry despite the fact that he had eaten a hearty breakfast only the preceding day, he entered and ordered a four course dinner.

"Yes, sir," said the waiter, and in less than five minutes he brought a napkin and placed it in front of Gealby.

"Hurry up; I'm hungry," ordered Gealby.

"Yes, sir," said the waiter, and ten minutes later he brought in a nice full glass of water.

Five minutes after that he appeared again with a plate of noodle soup in which the noodles to the extent of being three in number were plural.

Three minutes and a half after that he brought a bowl of toothpicks.

"Well, where's the rest of the courses?" asked Gealby.

"That's all, sir," said the waiter.

He and Gealby spent the next ten days side by side in the General Bruike hospital.—Detroit Free Press.

Quarantined.
In one of the little mountain towns of the south a Chautauqua meeting was held last summer for the first time. The fact was advertised for some distance round the town, but the older negroes especially did not understand what it was all about.

Across the front of the little hotel of the village was hung a banner bearing the one word "Chautauqua."

Up to this hotel one day drove an old negro in a one horse wagon containing a few vegetables, which he hoped to sell to the proprietor, as he had done on former occasions. But when he saw the banner with its ominous word he was seized with fright and would not go into the building or even get out of his wagon. When the proprietor appeared the old fellow inquired nervously, "What disease is you all quarantined for, boss?"—Youth's Companion.

GERMS IN THE MOUTH. ROMANCE OF FLOWERS.

Using Paper as a Toothpick Is a Dangerous Practice.

One of the most dangerous little tricks that men and women do is to take a bit of paper, torn from an envelope or newspaper, and try to run it between the teeth to remove some little particle of food that the tongue feels. If you want to be sure of trouble with your gums continue this practice, and sooner or later—rather sooner than later—you will secure a splendid case of infection of the gums that will send you to the dentist in a hurry, and may cause more than one sleepless night.

The bit of paper used in this way, introduced edgewise between the teeth, is worse than any toothpick, or other instrument, for many reasons. In the first place the sharp edge of the paper is most apt to make a cut in the gum, and in so doing it is almost sure to carry into the circulation at least some of the many germs clinging to it. Again, the chemicals used in the making of paper are far from edible, but in addition to these the newspaper may have picked up a variety of germs from those who have handled it or from the dust that has blown upon it while exposed for sale.

The flap of the envelope, which is so "handy" a bit to use for the teeth, may have touched the lips of some one with tonsillitis, or even with tuberculosis.—New York American.

TEUTONS CUTTING OFF THE RUSSIAN RETREAT

Lublin-Chelm Railway Now In Hands of Invaders and Situation is Serious.

ENTIRE POPULACE SAID TO BE FLEEING FROM WARSAW AS MAIN BODY OF RUSS FALL BACK

German Air Scouts Report Russian Army Marching East From Warsaw, But Rear Guard Still Holds the Polish Capital—All Railroads in Southern Russia Now in Hands of Enemy—Russian Losses Expected to be Heavy.

By Associated Press.

London, July 31. — Austro-German cavalry have entered Lublin. Official announcement to this effect from Vienna, supplementing German claims of last night that the Russian grip along this southern front had been broken, indicates that the important Lublin-Chelm railway now is strongly held by the invaders, cutting off one line of retreat for the Russian forces in southern Poland.

Meantime, General von Buelow continues his drive toward Vilna, seeking to cut the northern railway from Warsaw to Petrograd, and the predicament of the Russian armies, seeking to withdraw intact from Warsaw, unless the main forces already are around this district, becomes more perilous.

Warsaw's 800,000 inhabitants laden with such household articles and supplies of food as they can carry, are fleeing the city towards the east, and every dispatch from Russia makes guarded reference to some phase of the evacuation of the city.

Official announcement of its abandonment, which even now may be a fact, has not been forthcoming. The slender hope of the allied countries that the Germans might be held is dissipated and military writers are debating over Grand Duke Nicholas' chance of extricating his armies from a hard pinched triangle without disaster.

Besides the capture of Lublin and the seizure of the railway, the German forces have crossed the Vistula river between Warsaw and Ivanogorod, and the problem for the Russians to hold their wings north and south of Warsaw while the center retires, becomes acute. It was argued that the conduct of this retreat without great loss would entail the necessity of the Lublin-Chelm front holding firm.

Geneva, Switzerland, via Paris, July 31.—German aviators, returning to their lines after a flight over Warsaw, reported that they clearly saw the Russian troops evacuating the Polish capital, marching toward the east, says a dispatch received today by the Geneva Tribune from Innsbruck.

London, July 31.—By the occupation of Lublin, 95 miles southwest of Warsaw the Austrians have cut the Russians' all important means of communication, connecting the whole southern Russian front between the Vistula and the Bug rivers.

Geneva dispatches say all the railways in south Russia have been in the hands of the Austrians since yesterday. The Russians have battled desperately to prevent the Teutonic allies from gaining possession of the Ivangorod-Lublin-Chelm Railroad, which for some distance parallels the Vistula river.

POPE'S PLEA IS REJECTED

London, July 31.—Pope Benedict's plea for an "arranging of aspirations" finds no response in the British Press, which rejects, as the West Minister Gazette puts it, "the implication of the pope that we all equally are involved in a fratricidal struggle, and that all in equal degree are responsible for the origin and outcome of this strife."

"We had no choice in the matter in August, 1914," says the newspaper, "and we have no choice in the matter now."

WOULD KIDNAP THE BRIDEGROOM

Harbor Point, Mich., July 31.—More than 300 guests from all parts of the country are here for the marriage at four o'clock this afternoon of Catherine Barker, of Michigan City, and Howard H. Spaulding, Jr., of Chicago. Miss Barker is said to possess a fortune of between $20,000,000 and $30,000,000.

Some excitement was caused by a report that Miss Barker had received a threatening letter, stating that unless she pay $75,000 immediately Mr. Spaulding would be kidnapped. The Barker residence is under guard.

ORDER IS RESTORED

By Associated Press.

Washington, July 31. — Reports from the American legation at Port Au Prince, Haiti, say the city is quiet, and the disarming of natives is going on.

With 400 marines and two months supply of provisions, the battleship Connecticut sailed today from Philadelphia for Port Au Prince, where the two American blue jackets were killed by natives Thursday night in an attack. The marines will help maintain order in the Haitian city.

When the Haitians resisted the landing of Rear Admiral Caperton's bluejackets and marines Thursday six of the natives were killed and two wounded in the fighting. Rear Admiral Caperton made this report today, and forecasts further revolutionary disturbances on the island.

Mexicans Using High Handed Methods in Terror Ridden Capital—U. S Official Is Attacked, Official Documents Opened and American Flag Torn to Shreds—Cats and Dogs Form Means of Sustenance—Zapata to Kill Spaniards—Intervention by U. S. Desired by Many Mexicans.

By Associated Press.

Mexico City, Saturday, July 24, via wireless telegraph from Steamship City of Tampico to Galveston, July 31.—Paul Hildson, president of the Herald Publishing Company of Mexico City, an American citizen, together with members of his family and the staff of his paper, are prisoners in Mexico City and threatened with court martial.

The charges against Mr. Hildson have not been set forth, and it is not known what fate awaits him.

Allen Mallory, an American, has been assaulted by followers of Zapata while carrying diplomatic correspondence. At the time of this attack Mr. Mallory was carrying an American flag, which was torn and insulted by his Mexican assailants.

Zapata personally destroyed the correspondence taken from Mr. Mallory. He broke the legation seals, saying at the same time that the Americans were fools.

The Brazilian minister made an effort to obtain the release of Mr. Hildson, but he was openly flouted. Governmental control is lacking in Mexico City and terror prevails.

Swiss and Spanish citizens have been removed in autos and ordered executed. The resident foreigners are greatly alarmed.

Zapata is quoted as having said that he intended to kill the local Spaniards. The food situation in Mexico City is desperate. Starvation is abroad and the people are eating cats and dogs. Even some of the foreign residents are starving.

Certain Mexicans are appealing to the Brazilian minister for intervention by the United States. The foreigners feel that their position is particularly precarious, for the reason that they are unable to appeal to any authority. The governor of the federal district treats them with contempt.

GERMAN U-BOAT TORPEDOES LINER; AMERICAN IS KILLED

By Associated Press.

London, July 31.—The Leyland liner Iberian has been sunk by a German submarine. Five members of the crew were killed, two died aboard the rescue boat and 61 were landed safely.

Four of the seven men killed are said to have been Americans. The casualties were caused by shell fire. The submarine then torpedoed the liner and the vessel went to the bottom.

Washington, July 31.—The case of the four Americans killed in the shelling of the Iberian turns on whether the ship was warned by the German submarine, and whether she attempted to escape. State Department officials had no details today, but took steps to get a report.

In the case of the Armenian, the United States held that the Americans on the ship lost their protection of their government when it attempted to escape after being warned to stop.

Washington, July 31.—Only one American, a muleteer named Whyley, was killed when the British steamer Iberian was shelled and sunk by a German submarine.

American Consul Frost at Queens-town reported today that the Iberian disregarded the submarine's warning to stop. Later the German commander gave the crew time to take to the boats before firing a torpedo.

Whyley died of shock and wounds from shells.

ASSAULT EASILY REPULSED

Five Hundred More Marines Ordered to the Negro Republic as a Result of the Attack—Admiral Caperton Assumes Full Military Control of Affairs at Port au Prince — Latest Developments.

Washington, July 31.—Two American bluejackets were killed during an attack by Haitians upon the American forces now in occupation of Port au Prince. Admiral Caperton reported this to the navy department. He added that the attack was easily repulsed and that there is no cause for alarm as to the safety of the American forces or foreign residents of Port au Prince.

As a result of this attack, disclosing the seriousness of the situation with which Admiral Caperton is dealing, 500 more marines are being sent to him. Part of this force will leave Philadelphia on board the battleship Connecticut and the remainder will be made up of marine detachments from Norfolk, which will be picked up by the Connecticut off the Virginia capes.

Admiral Caperton has assumed full military control of Port au Prince and constitutes the only government or recognized authority in the Haitian capital at this time. A local committee of safety was organized by the Haitians, but no longer figures in the situation as a result of its attempts to interfere with Admiral Caperton's measures.

The dead as a result of the attack on the town are Seaman William Gompers, Brooklyn, N. Y., and Ordinary Seaman Cason S. Whitehurst of Norfolk, Va.

According to Admiral Caperton's dispatch he was warned that an attack would be made upon the town. Accordingly he disposed all his forces to meet any attack, placing the majority around the edge of the city. He had at the time only 400 men, 200 marines and 200 bluejackets. In addition to preparing for an attack on the city, he was obliged to maintain also strong guards throughout the city proper.

In the evening the attack came. It consisted chiefly in sniping from the brush on the southern side of the town. Gompers and Whitehurst were killed during the fighting that followed, but no others of the American forces even were wounded. The admiral sent no further details of the fighting except to say that the attack was easily repulsed.

POPE SENDS OUT APPEAL

Rome, July 31.—Pope Benedict's letter, addressed to the belligerent peoples and their rulers, warmly appeals for peace. The pope eloquently describes the horrors of fratricidal war, and affirms his decision to spare no efforts toward peace. He relieves his voice above the din of war and invokes peace in the name of God, whom he implores to end this horrible slaughter which is dishonoring Europe. The pope adds that the complete destruction of nations is impossible, since the vanquished, even though oppressed and humiliated, prepare for revenge; hence hatred is transmitted through generations.

The pope then suggests direct and indirect exchange of views toward a settlement of the rights and realization of the aspirations of the belligerents, and invites all peace lovers to join in his efforts to end the war. He reimplores the aid of God and the Blessed Virgin toward reconciliation of the warring states, the restoration of the brotherhood of the people and the re-establishment of the reign of equity and justice; finally, he blesses all Catholics and prays God to unite in bonds of charity those outside the church.

LINE OF RETREAT THREATENED

Germans Under Mackensen, Resuming the Offensive, Reach the Chelm-Lublin Railway, Midway Between These Two Cities—London Critics Still Have Faith in Grand Duke Nicholas. Review of Operations.

London, July 31.—Dispatches from the eastern front state that the Russians now are facing the problem of evacuating Russian Poland without losing their armies, while the Austro-German forces are making a supreme effort to get across their line of retreat. The Teutons are said to have met with partial success in this attempt, a Berlin official report stating that Field Marshal Von Mackensen, resuming the offensive, had reached the Chelm-Lublin railway, about midway between those two cities, and that southeast of this, as far as the Bug river, the Russian front had been shaken.

The success of General Von Mackensen in getting across this railway, after having been virtually stopped by the Russian counter attack, denies at least one line of retreat to the Russians who might still be between him and Warsaw, and also places the Germans in a position to move against the Bug river front should this be decided upon.

British military circles, however, refuse to believe that Grand Duke Nicholas, commander-in-chief of the Russian forces, has not provided for all contingencies or that he was not fairly sure of the safety of his troops before indicating to the world that he had decided to take up a new line. Indeed, the news contained in the Berlin official statement that the Germans have crossed the Vistula river southeast of Warsaw, between the Filica river and Kozienice, leads the military writers to the belief that the Russians already have fallen back in this region and that perhaps even the fortress of Ivangorod has been left to its fate.

According to dispatches received here, the country around Warsaw, which the Russians are leaving to the invaders has been put to the torch, while the city itself has been denuded of everything that might be of use to the Germans.

As soon as the present operations against Russia are concluded, whether or not they succeed in destroying any large part of the Russian army, it is expected that the Germans will turn to the west. It will therefore be a race between the Teutonic forces and the British and French as to which side will take the offensive in France, where the situation remains as it has been for weeks past, except in Alsace, where the French continue their attacks on the positions protecting Muenster.

A Rome dispatch says: "The Austrians attacked the Italians at Gorizia with 170,000 men, including 30,000 Bavarians, on the night of July 28, with disastrous results. The Austrian losses numbered 12,000. On the following day a fierce Austrian attack on Carso plateau also was repulsed. The Italians hold all the positions they have captured in the last fifteen days except the advanced trenches before Gorizia, which have been evacuated."

Columbus, July 31.—Two proposals, both looking to have the interstate commerce commission take up the matter of coal rates with a view to determining a proper differential between Ohio and other nearby fields, were submitted by the railroads of Ohio to the coal operators of the state at a conference here. Both were rejected by the operators. The committee of fourteen, each side having seven members, reported a failure to agree. It is practically discharged.

AIR ATTACKS BY THE FRENCH

Paris, July 31.—An extensive series of air raids is reported in the French official communique. From the most northern section of the battle line in Belgium to Alsace the French aviators dropped bombs on military positions, railroad stations and factories producing war material. In one of these raids the flying squadron consisted of forty aeroplanes, the object of which was to bombard the German petroleum works near Wissembourg, northeast of Strassbourg. Another squadron of ten aeroplanes made a raid on an asphyxiating gas factory at Dornach, in Alsace.

A desperate battle is reported in progress in the Vosges. The Germans delivered a counter attack in an effort to retake Barrenkopf. The sustained fire of the French guns broke down this attack, but the fighting continues.

LOADED COAL CARS DROP ON MEN BENEATH

Nine Killed and Score Injured at a Pennsylvania Mine.

Pittsburgh, July 31.—Two score of section men were repairing a spur on the tracks of the Pittsburgh and Lake Erie railroad at Patterson mine No. 2 of the United Coal company, at Lovedale Hollow, near West Elizabeth, when without warning twenty loaded coal cars crashed down upon them, killing nine of their number and injuring eighteen others. Among the dead is Samuel P. Daugherty, forty-three, superintendent of the mine. The other victims were mostly foreigners.

Six of the victims were killed instantly and three later died in the McKeesport hospital, where they had been taken with ten others, who are reported to be in a serious condition. Several other victims left the scene of the accident without their identity being learned after they had received medical attention.

Twenty cars had been started down the steep incline of several hundred feet toward the tippie from the mouth of the mine, heavily loaded with coal. When about thirty feet from the mouth of the mine the train of cars was released, when a large cable suddenly snapped and the cars started on a wild dash down the steep plane.

Today's Sanitation

Undoubtedly there has never been a time in the world when proper sanitation received the attention now given to it. There may have been marble baths and retinues of servants to personally direct cleanliness in the days of luxurious Rome and classic Greece, but the cleanliness which is the keynote of sanitation today is a different matter. Genuine cleanliness includes the air we breath, the food we eat as well as our surroundings, and involves the health of the community no less than that of the individual. It is by no means merely the selfish consideration of personal welfare without regard for health interests which may affect others.

It is the continual fighting of those germs which endanger health and the providing of surroundings which forbid their growth. Clean air, with the necessary amount of oxygen to change the sluggish blood as it comes from the veins to the lungs, is the great preventative of ills. Dust in the air is frequently a cause of respiratory troubles, such as bronchitis, pneumonia and tuberculosis, acting as an irritant to the air passages. Sunlight is the best possible purifier and in the summer time homes are more apt to be better ventilated and more healthful than in the winter, when they are often too tightly closed.

The campaign against the fly has done wonders in doing away with this dangerous little breeder of disease and the mosquito is far less active than formerly. Bad drains, defective plumbing, both active carriers of fatal diseases, and all other impurities of like class have led to such frightful results that they are no longer carelessly ignored until it is too late to undo harm.

Next to air, water is the most important of all substances necessary to human life and polluted water or infected milk are grave menaces that are no longer lightly overlooked.

The generations of today ought to be far healthier than ancestors of earlier times, for every means of fighting germs and conditions is placed within their reach.

Today the medical staff of an army or navy is more concerned with preserving the health of its men than in caring for those ill or wounded in service, although that is also conscientiously done.

If, on a smaller scale, the same knowledge and care were used in homes that is used by medical science in making Havana and Panama healthful; if the same effort were exerted to provide conditions that would refuse the disease-germ spreading, that is now used to restore to health; if sanitation prevails positively, not negatively, constructive, the community welfare will be greatly benefitted by prevalent good health.

Era of the Battleship In Naval Warfare Has Passed Away
By VICTOR AUGAGNEUR, French Minister of Marine

THE underwater craft has revolutionized all the old theories, and for the present no very effective method of fighting this new weapon has been devised. TEN MONTHS OF WAR HAVE COMPLETELY CHANGED ALL THE BELIEFS WHICH HAD BEEN HELD REGARDING THE POSSIBLE ACTION OF THE FLEET. You know very well that all the general staffs were still under the impressions caused by the Russo-Japanese war and as regards naval war theories under that of the battle of Tsushima. They all believed in the necessity of being prepared for great encounters between squadrons ever more powerful. IT WOULD BE ABSURD TO ASSESS THAT THE CHIEFS OF THE ALLIES' FLEETS HAVE LACKED INITIATIVE OR COURAGE. THEY HAVE BEEN FORCED MUCH AGAINST THEIR WISHES TO ADAPT THEMSELVES TO A METHOD OF WARFARE IMPOSSIBLE TO FORESEE.

American Nations Should Unite For Mutual Protection
By CLAUDIO WILLIMAN, Former President of Uruguay

I WOULD favor a union of American countries with the object of protecting their mutual rights out of which would grow a spirit of joint action which would force the respect and consideration which is due them and consequently insure American peace. Historical and political reasons incline me to the belief that for the present it would not be advisable for the European countries to form part of the union, which I think, however, would be advantageous to the American countries. THIS, NOTWITHSTANDING THAT SUCH AN ARRANGEMENT WOULD BE RECOGNIZED THEORETICALLY AS IDEALLY COSMOPOLITAN, FOR THE REASON THAT THE APPLICATION OF THIS UNIVERSAL FORMULA WOULD BE THE HIGHEST ASPIRATION OF INTERNATIONAL RIGHTS IN THE FUTURE. Poetry For Today

A TALK TO THE BOY.
Come, boy, to your dad. Let me tell you some things
Of the man who loved me as I'm now loving you,
For the heart is a pendulum heavy that swings
Aye forward and back as all pendulums do.
And tonight mine has swung far away to the time
When your dad had a dad, just as you have, my son—
A dad to whose arms I was welcome to climb
When his day in the cornfield or meadow was done.
I crept into arms that were stronger, my lad,
And his hands—oh, so tender! were harder than mine.
For the world had been harsh with the dad of your dad,
Yet I wish that my soul were as gently and fine
As the one roughly clad in that body of his,
That so lavishly gave of his strength for one
Who now shelters you. And my prayer's burden is
That you may think thus of your father, my son.
What I've gained I have gained—his the heavier cost;
He in embryo held all things I have done;
Yet I fear—gravelly fear—there are things I have lost
That sadly diminish the triumph, my son.
So lie close, little man—there's so little we know,
Except that I love you and you can love me,
And I smile with content that you're loving me so,
And am glad in that love, as my dad used to be.
—Strickland W. Gillian.

SUNKEN OIL RESERVOIRS.

Fuel Tanks For Submarines Hidden at the Bottom of the Sea.
Hidden reservoirs of oil fuel for submarines anchored on the bottom of the sea have been suspected by the British to be the means by which German submarines have been able to operate far from the apparent bases of supply, and, though there is no proof that the German submarines are using such hidden reservoirs or would even have any need of them, it has become known that such reservoirs have been constructed in a way which makes them practical.
The reservoir is a steel cylinder of varying size up to 150 feet long with several compartments filled with oil fuel and some compartments designed to hold sea water or air, as may be desired. The cylinder is towed to the hiding place and sunk by filling some compartments with sea water. An inconspicuous float on the surface marks the place where the cylinder is sunk.
To take oil from the cylinder the submarine crew locate the float and pull it up, bringing with it a flexible pipe. Air is then pumped into the pipe, and the air forces the water out of the compartments of the cylinder, causing the whole outfit to come to the surface. An oil supply hose from the submarine is then attached to a valve on the side of the oil tank, and the oil is pumped to the submarine. After a supply is taken water is again allowed to flow into the cylinder, which then sinks to its place on the bottom.—Saturday Evening Post.

How Baseball Follows the Flag.
Ten years ago, says the Panama Star and Herald, the small boys of the canal zone played at bullfighting. Now they have lost their ambition to become slayers of bulls and want to become great baseball players. The national game has followed the flag, conquering the brutal sport that preceded it. The Panaman boy has even translated baseball slang into Spanish, according to the Herald. "At a recent game," it says, "we heard a Panaman boy say in Spanish, 'Bunt, man; bunt; now is the time to bunt.' The boy was right, and the batter did it. No boy ever got more joy and excitement out of the death of a bull than that boy did out of that bunt."—Outlook.

Ten Wars in Eighteen Years.
The historian of the twentieth century, which was ushered in with the thunder of South African battlefields, will have to record eight wars in the first fifteen years of its span. These eight are the following:
Boer war, Russo-Japanese war, Franco-Moroccan war, Italian-Turkish war, the two Balkan wars, the war in Mexico and the pending European war, greatest of all time.
If we add the two wars with which the nineteenth century closed—the Greco-Turkish war of 1897 and the Spanish-American war of 1898—we have a record of ten wars in eighteen years.—St. Louis Post-Dispatch.

The Dutch Army.
Every Dutch citizen is liable to personal service in the army (or navy) from the age of nineteen to forty. Actual service in the ranks is determined by lot, but substitution is not permitted. The peace strength of the Netherlands army—that is, the permanent staffs of all the units of the first line—amounted in 1913 to 1,543 officers and 21,412 noncommissioned officers and men. The total strength of the field army is approximately 125,000 men, with 152 guns.

The schoolgirl of Berlin must not carry her books in a hand bag, but in a knapsack on her back. The minister of education is responsible for this new rule. The rule is directed to teachers, parents and the girls themselves. What Constitutes Wealth

A Persian Philosopher — who albeit a Philosopher was very wise in the things of this world—when asked as to what constituted wealth replied: "To constitute wealth there must be three gifts. No. 1, Money. No. 2, More Money. No. 3, Still More Money." There is more in this than appears to the casual eye. First, let us say, open a Bank Account at the Fayette County Bank with a little Money. Add to it and you will have More Money. Continue adding to it and you will have Still More Money—and before you know it, you have WEALTH.
—Labor and Thrift are the Cornerstones upon which the Structures of Success and Wealth are erected.

FATCHING IN PUBLIC.

Street Sewers In China Mend Torn Garments While You Wait.
In many towns of China one may have his garments mended on the street and "while he waits." Native sewing women are to be seen on low stools perhaps on the sidewalks mending articles of masculine attire.
The accomplishments of these street seamstresses are somewhat limited, their efforts with the needle being for the most part confined to "running." Other branches of needlework are practically unknown to them. As a consequence their efforts are better appreciated by native workmen than by foreign travelers.
They are never short of patrons among the former, for these are often natives of other districts and, having come to the city to engage in business, have no one to mend a rent for them. Their wives being left at home, they are glad to avail themselves of the services of the street needlewomen. For this class of customers the skill of the itinerant sewing women answers every purpose.
Generally speaking, these women are wives of boatmen and laborers who live in the houseboats which line the creeks of many Chinese cities and towns, and their needles are a great help toward the solution of the problem of maintenance in a crowded city or town.—Washington Star.

A Cruel Comparison.
"I don't make much," said the fond suitor. "My salary is $30 a week. Could we live on that, dear?"
"Ah," sighed the maiden dreamily. "Just the price of a tire for father's motorcar."
Then something told the f. s. that he was wasting time.

OLD FRENCH FLATS ARE PURCHASED BY C. L. CRAIG

Another Epoch in the Interesting History of the Site Occupied By the Old Brick Tenement Houses on Water Street—Sale Results From Damage Inflicted By Tornado a Few Weeks Ago.

Mr. Clyde L. Craig has purchased the old "French Flats," on Water street, and will rearrange and rebuild them for residences.

This property is an old land mark, being first used as a distillery where the juice of the corn was distilled.

The offal from the distillery along the creek bank south of the distillery soon proved an offensive nuisance, causing the abandonment of the industry.

Next, two citizens, Messrs Addison Bybee and Hicks Shoemaker, established a hub, spoke and handle factory in the buildings.

The quality and finish of their goods were superior to any in the market, the Roger Wheel Company of Cincinnati being a close second.

In addition to the United States government orders they soon had a business much too large for their capital and could not continue.

They were succeeded by Thomas B. Thornton and Lenox Campbell.

The property shortly afterward passed into the hands of Isaac Vandeman and W. F. Dews, who operated a woolen mill in the structure.

This enterprise was succeeded by the Dayton & Southeastern, narrow gauge) railroad company, who used it for a passenger and freight station under the agency of Mr. William P. Barnes.

Later the building was used for a grain elevator owned by James F. Ely and Albert M. Stinson.

On September 8, 1885 a tornado demolished everything of every kind that had been accumulating on the site of the flats.

Tenement houses (French Flats) were erected, and occupied, until the recent tornado, which badly damaged them.

BIDS ON PAVING IMPROVEMENTS ARE SUBMITTED

Bids were received by City Service Director Charles Gerstner at noon Saturday for the paving of West Court street, East street and the Craig-Penn alley.

The Andrews Paving Company, of Hamilton, O., S. T. Knight, of Columbus, and G. H. Heffner & Son, of Celina, O., were the bidders on the Court and East street jobs, and J. S. Wilt, of Washington C. H., on the Craig-Penn alley.

The awarding of contracts will take place some time next week.

The course of the improvements in question are as follows: West Court street, from Hinde to the intersection of Court with Leesburg and Clinton avenues; East street, from Main street to Washington avenue; Craig-Penn alley, from East street to the intersection with Columbus and Washington avenues.

LEARNED THE GAME IN OLD FAYETTE

A few days ago a local man wrote to the W. J. Jamison Company, of Chicago, for some artificial bait to coax the better class of fish from their damp retreats.

The letter that came back was from Mr. Jamison himself, who stated that he was born in Fayette county and spent part of his life here, learning to coax the fish out of the streams, and that he frequently landed some big ones in the old mill race here.

He has invented a large variety of artificial bait and the biggest championship fishing contests of the country have been won by bait manufactured by Mr. Jamison.

Mr. Ben Jamison of this city is an uncle of the noted fisherman.

PRIMARY ELECTION TUESDAY, AUG. 10

The primary election in this city is near at hand, coming Tuesday, August 10th, and so far very little interest has developed in the approaching event, although several of the candidates are now making a canvass for votes.

So far the campaign—if it could be called such—has been unusually quiet.

NEW OFFICIAL TAKES OFFICE

Tonight at the midnight hour, Mr. Oliver S. Nelson succeeds Mr. Frank M. Allen as superintendent of the rural and village schools of Fayette county.

While Mr. Allen's term in office really expires tonight, Mr. Nelson will not assume charge of the office until Monday morning, when he will be found at his office in the Court House where he will be actively engaged in preparing for the opening of schools in September.

COMMISSIONERS DO NOT AGREE ON SALARY

When a bill for $60 salary for the court house janitor came up for consideration at the meeting of the county commissioners, Saturday morning, a disagreement resulted in Commissioners Perrill and Brown approving the bill and Commissioner Weaver refusing to approve, stating that the new janitor had been employed at $50 per month and not $60.

Mr. Weaver argued that the former janitor drew $50 and that inasmuch as the salary had been fixed at $50 the amount should stand at $50 per month.

Mr. Brown argued that the work was worth $60 per month. The bill was allowed.

U. S. CAN'T STOP MUNITIONS OF WAR SAYS HON. S. D. FESS

"This country cannot forbid the exportation of munitions of war without being guilty of an act of unneutrality," said Congressman Fess in speaking before a Greene county audience Thursday.

Continuing he said: "The allies control the seas, and should this country, by an edict, forbid the exportation of munitions to the allies she would favor Germany by weakening the strength of the allies. Under international law, this could be interpreted as an act favoring Germany.

"Neutral rights are not defined by national law, but by international law. No matter what this country should wish to do as a nation, she must obey the well defined provisions of international law.

"In view of our situation under international law, the president should be supported in what he has done. Thus far the negotiations between the two countries have been diplomatic, but the president's last note to Germany is really final. We are left to wait to see how Germany will regard it. In other words, it is 'Germany's next move.'

"I think the situation is pretty critical. I do not think Congress ought to be called into special session because of the consequences. Congressmen would begin making speeches, and the people would get excited, making the situation hard to handle. I think the president can handle the situation better than can congress."

THE WASHINGTON DAIRY LUNCH

Will occupy the Arlington Hotel dining room on and after August 1st. Our present location is good and business is splendid, but on account of poor ventilation we are moving to a well ventilated room, where one can enjoy a good meal. We will have a larger seating capacity and also be equipped to give you better and quicker service. It will be run on the same plan—self service or table service.

We thank you for your past patronage and hope you will find us in our new location.

The DAIRY LUNCH

In Social Circles

The spacious country home of Mr. and Mrs. J. B. Mark, at Glendon was the scene of an ideally pretty home wedding at half past eight o'clock Saturday morning, when the only daughter, Katharine, plighted her troth to Mr. Bruce King, only son of Mr. and Mrs. John King, south of town.

The marriage was the sequence to an acquaintance begun in the local high school, of which both are graduates.

The bride is an exceptionally bright and attractive girl, as well as an accomplished musician and both young people have been favorites with a large circle of friends, old and young.

The bridegroom, who was President of his class and prominent in various school activities, supplemented his high school course with a course at the Ohio State University and now is engaged with his father in the management of their farms.

It was a wedding as informal and simple as it was artistic. Feathered asparagus and pink and white cosmos combined in graceful decoration throughout the large rooms.

An immense jardiniere of cosmos rested upon the newel post and the stairway was hidden beneath the asparagus.

Thirty-five relatives and intimate young friends witnessed the ring ceremony performed by Rev. J. A. Shaffer, the bride's pastor at the Mt. Carmel church, of which church she has been the pianist.

The wedding music was beautifully played by the young sister of the bridegroom, Miss Lorie King, and just before the ceremony Miss Daisy Cockerill, his aunt, sang effectively "Because" and "I Love Thee Truly."

The minister awaited the bridal party in front of the living room mantel, banked high with asparagus, starred with cosmos, and it was a beautiful bridal tableau which formed against the greenery.

Mr. and Mrs. Hays Dill, at whose wedding in June this morning's bride and bridegroom were maid of honor and best man, reciprocated by filling the role of matron of honor and best man.

Charlene Mark, a darling little niece of the bride, in her frock of pink crepe de chine and big maline hair bow, led the way, carrying the ring in a gold basket, decorated with pink baby ribbon and sweet peas.

Following her, to the strains of the Mendelssohn march came the bridegroom and best man, preceding the matron of honor. The bride, who is an extremely pretty girl of the blonde type, looked very girlish and sweet in her wedding gown. It was of white crepe de chine, made in a youthful fashion, with double flounced skirt and bolero of Spanish lace, the low bodice and sleeves finished with tulle plaitings. She carried a beautiful shower bouquet of roses and lilies of the valley.

The matron of honor was lovely in an elaborate gown of pink flowered silk, with chiffon bodice, and black velvet girdle, singularly becoming to her brunette coloring.

She carried an armful of pink roses.

Miss Cockerill sang "Until the End of Time" after the nuptial blessing.

Immediately after congratulations an elaborate wedding breakfast of three courses was served. Seated around the bridal table, with the bride and groom were the parents and Rev. and Mrs. Shaffer.

An immense crystal basket of pink and white cosmos, artistically arranged, adorned the table and smaller crystal baskets of sweet peas, the smaller tables, at which were seated the remainder of the guests.

Mr. and Mrs. King left amid a shower of rice, on the B. & O. 10:36 for a wedding trip on the lakes.

The bride's going away gown was of dark green poplin, with fall turban to match.

There was a very handsome array of wedding gifts.

Mr. and Mrs. King will be at home after September the first at "Paint's Side Farm." Both young people belong to families well known and widely connected and good wishes galore will follow them to their new home.

In compliment to Miss Gail Bodenheimer, of Columbus, Mr. Edwards Hopkins delightfully entertained twenty young people Friday evening.

Summer flowers embellished the handsome home and victrola and piano music added to the pleasure of the evening.

Delicious punch all evening and a dainty repast were served.

Mr. and Mrs. Austin F. Hopkins assisted their son in the hospitalities.

Miss Helen Knight of Columbus, and Miss McVey of Oxford, were out of town guests.

Rev. Wm. Boynton Gage was a visitor in Columbus Saturday.

Mr. and Mrs. Bennett King are spending Sunday with Mrs. King's mother, Mrs. J. R. Conner near Jeffersonville. Their daughter Miss Florence, accompanies them home from a week's visit.

Mrs. Albert S. Glascock and little daughter Georgiana, Mrs. Frank C. Parrett, left Saturday for Russell's Point, to join Mr. Glascock and Mr. Parrett who are spending a few days at that summer resort.

Mr. and Mrs. W. L. Barr and little granddaughter Betty Barr were up from Greenfield Friday, the guests of Mr. and Mrs. Frank E. Haines.

Miss Mary Crow, of Xenia, and Miss Lucy Warnock, of Jeffersonville are the week end guests of Miss Ruth Davenport.

Mr. W. W. Westerfield left Saturday afternoon for his home in New Orleans, La. He expects to return later in the summer.

Rev. Harry Hadley returned to his charge at Martin's Ferry Friday evening, after a visit with his parents, Hon. and Mrs. H. L. Hadley.

Mr. and Mrs. Jay Trobridge and daughter Miss Louise, of Columbus, are the guests of Mr. and Mrs. Howard Griffiths.

Misses Anna and Lizzie Bell have returned from a visit with their niece, Mrs. Horace Miller, in Middletown.

Miss Mayme McCall goes to her home in Jackson Sunday for a two week's vacation.

Miss May Millikan arrived from Lexington, Ky., Saturday evening for an indefinite stay with her brother, Mr. W. W. Millikan, and family.

Mrs. J. C. Bliss returned to her home in Chillicothe Saturday evening after a visit with her sister, Miss Susanne Lannius. Miss Lannius and Miss Virginia Campbell accompanied her home for a short stay.

Mrs. Mary Patton is spending a few days with her granddaughter, Mrs. Robert Schenk, in Dayton.

Miss Edith Spray and Miss Bertha Townsley are spending a few days the guests of Misses Ruthen and Helen Hanna, of Madison Mills.

Mrs. Henry Hixon, sons Paul, Ralph and daughter Alice returned Saturday from a visit with Mrs. Hixon's mother, Mrs. Elizabeth Lukken, in Cincinnati.

Rev. Bowman Hosteler will preach at Pleasant View, in the Church of Christ, Sunday evening.

Mrs. Charles Cullen and little daughter Elizabeth Anne, returned Friday night from a two months' visit with Mrs. Cullen's mother in Dahlart, Texas.

Mr. and Mrs. E. N. Holloway have returned from an Eastern trip and stay at Virginia Beach, Md.

Dr. J. F. Dennis has returned from a visit in Toledo.

Mrs. Hunt and son Edward left Friday evening for their home in Adairville, Ky., after a visit with Mr. and Mrs. R. C. Hunt.

Mr. George Weaver and family were over from Xenia to attend the wedding of Mrs. Weaver's niece, Miss Katharine Mark, and Mr. Bruce King.

Prof. F. M. Peters, formerly High school principal, wife and daughter Sarah are week end guests of Mr. and Mrs. Cary Cripps and Prof. and Mrs. O. K. Probasco, for a few days while on a motoring trip from their present home in Celina, Kansas.

Mrs. Martha Patton returns to Dayton Sunday, after a visit with her mother, Mrs. Backenstoe. Mr. Hugh Smith and family and Mrs. Backenstoe motor over with her.

PROVISIONS ARE COMING IN SLOWLY

Five dollars in money and a market basket full of provisions was the extent of the increase in contributions to the relief of southern Ohio miners received at the Y. M. C. A. Saturday. The accumulation of the four days since the appeal was sent out by the governor, would not begin to fill an eighth of the carload the local relief workers had set out to accomplish by Monday.

The committee, however, is not dispirited. It is confident that the appeals, to be made from all local pulpits Sunday morning and to the mass meeting on the court house lawn in the evening, will bring good results. The Rev. William Boynton Gage is to address the mass meeting.

SWIMMING LESSONS TO BE RESUMED MONDAY

The following statement was issued Saturday by the Women's Gym Class:

Owing to a great many difficulties developing at the out-door swimming pool it has become necessary to confine the use of it exclusively to the Ladies' Gym Class.

"At the beginning of the season, Mr. Clarence Baer very kindly turned the pool (which is private property) over to the Gym Class, as a ladies' pool, and beginning Monday the girls' and ladies' regular classes will be resumed and all men and boys will be excluded with the exception of George O'Brian and an able assistant.

"The class has secured George O'Brian as a paid instructor and he will take charge of all classes, permitting no one to enter the pool outside regular classes. There will be a slight change in the schedule which will be announced after the meeting of the class at the Y. M. C. A. Monday night. There will be classes Monday, 4 to 5—6 to 7.

Y. M. C. A. NOTES

A telegram to Secretary Patton from Mr. Wade Laser, of Mansfield, who was to have conferred Saturday with the local Y. M. C. A. board of directors with regard to the position of physical director here, states that he has accepted a position in another city. This removes another of the several prospectives.

STILL SEEKING BOLD BURGLAR

For the second time within the past few weeks the home of Chas. Lewis, on Columbus avenue, was visited by a burglar one night this week and $5 stolen from an upstairs room.

About one month ago a thief visited the Lewis residence in daytime and carried off some $12. It is supposed the same thief committed both crimes.

WORK BEGIN ON EAST COURT STREET

The work of improving East Court street by paving with asphalt was launched Saturday, when a steam plow was put to work breaking up the hard surface of the thoroughfare.

The contractor in charge expects to push the work without delay, and the new street will be watched with deep interest.

WASHINGTON AVENUE PAVING PROGRESSES

The Washington avenue paving is progressing rapidly. Brick had been laid from the corporation line as far as Ely street Saturday morning, and the cement foundation work has been carried to within a block of East street.

BUMBLEBEES PUT SOLDIERS TO FLIGHT

When Company M goes into camp at Yellow Springs, Monday, August 9th, the boys will endeavor to steer clear of a certain part of the drill field where there is an abundance of energetic bumble-bees which have just put to flight an entire company up at Yellow Springs.

The company was drilling Friday, when a private stepped into a big nest of bumble-bees, and an instant later ranks were broken and the big fighters scampered in all directions while the busy little bees inflicted punishment for the interruption of their erstwhile quiet life.

DEFINITE ACTION EXPECTED

Washington Administration Determined to Carry Out Promptly the Program Determined Upon—Up to Mexican Military Leaders to Avert American Invasion—Lansing Sends Representations to Warring Heads.

Washington, July 31.—When President Wilson returns to Washington next week, definite steps will be taken toward restoration of peace in Mexico.

What specific action the president may have decided on has not been disclosed, but it was authoritatively stated that the executive departments of the government were preparing to carry out promptly the program determined upon. Only an unexpected move in Mexico itself to end the strife, it is said, would further delay affirmative action by the United States to restore constitutional government in the war-torn republic.

Armed intervention is not believed to be contemplated in the president's program. Many officials believe no forceful measures will be required. Persistent reports have reached here that the faction leaders are inclined to yield to the demands of this government for a peace conference.

Reports are generally credited that a message will be sent to the opposing leaders giving them a final chance to cease hostilities within a limited time and assemble a conference to settle their differences. Possibilities of another failure to do so, in view of the refusal of General Carranza to join in a conference with his adversaries, is being considered by the president. It is declared, in formulating a plan of action. Whether in that event a general embargo on arms exportations will be imposed or American troops employed to assure transportation of food to the starving people of the country, can not be predicted. It is known, however, that the army and navy have been preparing and now are ready for any eventualities.

Secretary Lansing said that the representations sent to Generals Carranza, Villa and Zapata, urging that routes to Mexico City be opened to provision trains, were forceful. The message to Carranza, who controls the railroad from Vera Cruz, was particularly emphatic.

No answer from any of the Mexican generals has been received. It is believed, however, that provision trains will be moving to Mexico City within a few days under guard of Carranza troops.

N. Y. POLICE MAKE A HAUL

New York, July 31.—Twelve hours after Charles Becker paid with his life for the Rosenthal murder, Lieutenant "Honest Dan" Costigan and his squad—called successors to the Becker strong-arm men—raided the Flower and Feather Social Benefit club in Sixth avenue and arrested among others Jacob Lublan, whose brother Morris was an important witness for the state against the dead police lieutenant. The "club" was raided with axes, ladders and crowbars as a gambling house. "Dollar John" Langer, once the close friend of Rosenthal in the tenderloin gambling fraternity, is said to be the club's financial backer.

STABILITY LEAGUE SMASHES RECORDS

Columbus, July 31.—Records for securing signatures on state referendum petitions were eclipsed when the Constitutional Stability league filed with the secretary of state petitions initiating an amendment to the constitution limiting elections on twice defeated constitutional proposals. The petitions carried 172,962 signatures, nearly 60,000 more than necessary. These signatures were secured in sixteen days.

CRUISER TENNESSEE RETURNS TO AMERICA

New York, July 31.—The American armored cruiser Tennessee, which has been many months in European waters distributing gold to stranded Americans and acting as a ferryboat between France and England in conveying refugees from French ports, arrived with $169,000 of the $8,000,000 in gold that she took abroad.

SEC'Y LANSING GETTING BUSY

Cornish, N. H., July 31.—Secretary of State Lansing informed President Wilson that he sent vigorous representations to Carranza, Villa and Zapata, calling upon them to restore communication between Vera Cruz and Mexico City, so as to permit the entrance of foodstuffs for the civilian population of the Mexican capital. Mr. Lansing reported to the president that recent reports from Mexico City showed that many persons there were on the verge of starvation and that immediate relief seemed to be necessary. It was the most disappointing information regarding conditions in the southern republic which has reached the president from an official quarter in considerable time.

TWO DUTCH SPIES DIE IN THE TOWER

London, July 31.—It is officially announced that two spies, subjects of Holland, who were convicted of conveying information about the fleet to the enemy, were shot at the Tower. One of the men confessed his guilt immediately after his conviction.

J. P. MORGAN HAS RECOVERED

Glencove, L. I., July 31.—J. Pierpont Morgan returned to his East island estate after a cruise in his steam yacht Corsair along the Atlantic coast. It was said at the Morgan home that Mr. Morgan was fully recovered from the wounds inflicted by Frank Holt in an attempt to assassinate him.

IS CHARGED WITH BIGAMY

Pittsburgh, July 31.—Accused of marrying three widows since last November and courting the fourth when arrested, Charles H. Davis, fifty, of Spokane, Wash., is detained here, charged with bigamy. His record for marriages, according to the police, is as follows: Nov. 14, 1914, Mrs. H. A. Young, Brooklyn, N. Y.; Jan. 11, 1915, Mrs. M. L. Hines, Kansas City; July 28, 1915, Mrs. Emma Donahue, Pittsburgh. His romance with Mrs. Young began when he was fished out of East river after jumping from the Brooklyn bridge last September.

GATE OPENED TO LIABILITY FIRMS

Columbus, July 31.—Liability insurance companies are not barred from writing employers' liability insurance by the workmen's compensation law, according to a ruling of Insurance Commissioner Taggart in granting the application of three such companies to amend their licenses, granting them authority to operate in the workmen's compensation field.

PRACTICAL HEALTH HINT.

Children's Night Terrors.
Writing of "night terrors," so common among children, Dr. Adolph Stern says in the New York Medical Journal that these have a deeper cause than those given in the textbooks, which are adenoids and enlarged tonsils, large or indigestible meals eaten shortly before going to bed and the telling of harrowing or terrifying stories. According to Dr. Stern, children who sit up screaming "Mother, mother!" "The black man!" "The ghost!" or even those who constantly cry for a drink of water are generally the offspring of neurotic mothers and have themselves been made neurotic by receiving too much attention, too much emotional affection by being kept too dependent, not leaning on themselves, but on others. The care for such children is to make them play with other children, to let them do things for themselves, such as dressing and bathing themselves and going to bed alone. Thus they will acquire a spirit of independence.

"Flowery" Names.

Many of the Chinese names are of a "flowery" character. The Chinese minister at Washington for many years was Wu Ting Fang, a name which signifies "fragrant place." The name of the minister to England at the same time was Lo Feng Lo, meaning "a rich harvest," while the name of the contemporary minister to France, Yu Keng, signified "much gold." The regular name for a little Chinese girl baby is "My thousand ounces of gold."

FEDERAL GRAND JURY LAUNCHES INVESTIGATION

No Whitewash of Eastland Disaster, Says Judge Landis.

Chicago, July 31. — Federal Judge Landis made it clear that there is to be no whitewash of the Eastland disaster, insofar as the investigation by the grand jury within his jurisdiction is concerned. He gave peremptory orders to Marshal Bradley to seize the wreck of the steamer, the ship's papers and all other evidence recovered, that it may be available for the federal grand jury on demand. He also issued an order that any person attempting to discuss the Eastland case with any person called before the federal grand jury would be held in contempt. The order of Judge Landis may result in the collapse of the inquiry being made by State Attorney Hoynes. Witnesses summoned by the state attorney to appear before the Cook county jury are also under summons to appear before the federal body.

It is the contention of the federal officials that the Chicago river, being a navigable stream, the captain of the Eastland and other officers having federal licenses and the steamer being under federal inspection at all times, that the state is without jurisdiction. It is also pointed out by the federal officials that only the government has jurisdiction to command the presence of witnesses from outside the state, citing that William H. Hull, vice president of the St. Joseph-Chicago Steamboat company, owners of the Eastland, and who was held on a manslaughter charge by the coroner's jury, was clearly within his rights when he refused to submit to arrest.

Henry Moir, owner of the Morrison hotel, who was a member of the coroner's grand jury, made a severe attack on Secretary Redfield. Said Mr. Moir: "Redfield should be driven out of town if President Wilson doesn't recall him at once. This man actually made a two hours' speech to the coroner's jury in which he said that steamboat building was still in an experimental stage. He has been a blight on this whole investigation ever since he came here, in my opinion. As a member of the coroner's jury, I wanted to see something done at the time. All that he has done so far has been by way of exculpating those under suspicion, and particularly trying to whitewash his own department. If the Eastland was a seaworthy boat, as he argued to us, then his inspection service is not worth a pinch of snuff. To stand up there and argue that the Eastland was seaworthy and that his federal inspectors did their duty, when the boat lay on its side at Cark street, was not only bad taste on his part, in my opinion, but was actually enraging to me."

Labor leaders also issued statements that the department of commerce inquest would be a whitewash for federal inspectors. These labor leaders telegraphed a protest to President Wilson, but received no reply.

INTERESTING SESSION OF THE W. C. T. U.

The W. C. T. U. Institute held at the Staunton M. E. Church Friday, recorded itself one of the most profitable sessions of the kind ever held in the county.

Four unions, the Staunton, Sugar Grove, Washington C. H., and Good Hope, were represented in a large attendance.

Mrs. Alice Taggart, County President, called the meeting to order and Rev. Shaffer offered prayer in devotional exercises, conducted by Mrs. Alice Roberts.

Mrs. Roberts, as president of the Staunton union, gave a cordial little address of welcome.

A feature of special interest of the morning session was Mrs. Taggart's reading of "A Retrospection" supposed to have been written by the late Mrs. Hutchison, National Treasurer, and found in her Bible after her death.

Mrs. Jordon, of Wilmington, State Supt. of Anti-Narcotics, the speaker of the day, was introduced in the morning and made a little talk on the Department of Literature and Sunday school temperance work.

There were a number of informal talks; Mrs. Taggart giving a report of the temperance meeting given the opening day of the Lancaster camp meeting for the benefit of the temperance women of Southern Ohio and attended by 300; Mrs. Augusta Haines on "Flower Mission Work;" Mrs. Elva Post, "Mothers' Meetings;" Mrs. Chas. A. Stafford on the work done in the Sunday schools of Washington by the department of anti-narcotics.

Mrs. Laura Post read a leaflet written by Mrs. Frances Willard.

The noon hour was greatly enjoyed socially, an elegant basket dinner served on the screened porch of the parsonage.

Mrs. Jordon had charge of the afternoon session.

The afternoon interest centered in the able address delivered by Mrs. Jordon. She used strong illustration to show the small comparison of money spent in church aid and mission work and the necessities, such as bread, shoes, books, etc., and that expended in liquors and tobacco, making the statement that one pound of tobacco contains enough nicotine to kill almost 300 men.

Mrs. Jordon made the appalling statement that it was widely known that the white slave traffic demanded 150,000 young girls for the Panama-Pacific exposition and that every high school girl in the country with tabulated disposition and habits, was on the lists of the promoters of this illegal traffic.

The afternoon's program also included a recitation by little Edith Williams; paper, "Who Are the Prohibition Fanatics?" Mrs. Carrie B. Willis; a vocal solo, Mrs. Maude Shoop; leaflet read by Mrs. Blanche Boyer; reading, "The Relayed Answer," Miss Ruth Mark.

Mrs. Taggart read a letter from Mrs. Florence Richards, in which she urged that ten women of each union pledge themselves to use their influence with voters opposing the dry movement constantly until the election.

Mrs. Snodgrass, the State Purity worker, will be with the county union, September 1st.

Mrs. Taggart closed the meeting by reading with much earnestness, the poem, "Get Into the Fight."

RAILROAD ISSUES LIST OF "NEVERS"

Pursuing the campaign against accidents to pedestrians in which connection instruction has been given to school children and appeals to keep away from the tracks have been made from the pulpit, the police department of the Baltimore & Ohio railroad has issued a poem "Nevers for Children," for distribution in communities reached by its rails through school authorities and other public officials.

"Never cross the tracks by night, or by day, Without stopping to listen and look each way.

Never walk along the railroad ties— You can't always trust your ears and eyes.

Never hop a freight, for nothing quite heals The wound received under grinding wheels.

Never, on a hot or sunny day, Sit beneath a box car to rest or play.

Never crawl under a car of freight, When the crossing's blocked—play safe and wait.

Never board, or alight from, a train that is moving, Accidents daily its dangers are proving.

Never play games 'round the tracks at the station— There are much safer places to seek recreation.

Never leave on the rail any spikes or bars, Because in this way you may wreck the cars.

Never a railroad bridge should you cross, A train may come and result in your loss.

Never pick up coal 'round the railroad yard, A train may catch you off your guard."

There are much safer places to seek recreation.

REDFIELD ANSWERS ACCUSERS

By Associated Press.

Chicago, July 31.—Secretary of Commerce William C. Redfield, stirred by criticism of his inquiry into the steamer Eastland disaster by local officials, declared today he would make a thorough investigation of the entire United States steamboat inspection service here, if proper charges against individual inspectors or the department are filed.

The secretary said that both he and federal officials, whose duty it was to "give a square deal to all" had been prejudiced and "not given a chance by Chicago officials and others."

He said, "I am sorry, I am hurt and I am willing to admit it. I have been mistreated and prejudged by the Chicago press and by Chicago citizens."

"Abuse and scorn me if you feel that you must, but in God's name spare the men to whom I am trying, to the best of my ability, to give a square deal as my duty orders me to do."

HIS FOUR COURSE DINNER.

It Wasn't Very Satisfactory, Nor Were the After Effects.

Gealby, being almost a perfect reader, had no difficulty at all in reading the sign outside the restaurant.

"Four course dinner, 15 cents," Gealby read carefully.

"Cheap at half the price," he exclaimed wonderingly, and, being very hungry despite the fact that he had eaten a hearty breakfast only the preceding day, he entered and ordered a four course dinner.

"Yes, sir," said the waiter, and in less than five minutes he brought a napkin and placed it in front of Gealby.

"Hurry up; I'm hungry," ordered Gealby.

"Yes, sir," said the waiter, and ten minutes later he brought in a nice full glass of water.

Five minutes after that he appeared again with a plate of noodle soup in which the noodles to the extent of being three in number were plural.

Three minutes and a half after that he brought a bowl of toothpicks.

"Well, where's the rest of the courses?" asked Gealby.

"That's all, sir," said the waiter. He and Gealby spent the next ten days side by side in the General Bruise hospital.—Detroit Free Press.

Then and Now.

A playful thing is Phyllis' hair! In youth, as I remember now, The gentle mountain breezes fair Toss'd raven curls about her brow.

I saw dear Phyllis leave her flat And walk the busy city street. The playful wind which flitted her hat Toss'd curls of gold about her feet!

Better Yet.

"Think of it," said the candidate, as he took the farmer's infant on his knee, "this boy, so small, so immature, may live to become the president of our broad and enlightened republic!"

"Nothing doing!" said the farmer harshly. "That's a girl!"

"Better yet!" cried the unabashed candidate. "This girl may live to rule the man who rules the republic!"—Cleveland Plain Dealer.

Lucky.

The wheelwright gives his life to wheels. The boatwright works on boats all day. The playwright no exhaustion feels. Because his work is only play.

Sense.

A little nonsense now and then Is relished by the best of men. But seen too oft they take offense And come straight back to common sense.

Quarantined.

In one of the little mountain towns of the south a Chautauqua meeting was held last summer for the first time. The fact was advertised for some distance round the town, but the older negroes especially did not understand what it was all about.

Across the front of the little hotel of the village was hung a banner bearing the one word "Chautauqua."

Up to this hotel one day drove an old negro in a one horse wagon containing a few vegetables, which he hoped to sell to the proprietor, as he had done on former occasions. But when he saw the banner with its ominous word he was seized with fright and would not go into the building or even get out of his wagon. When the proprietor appeared the old fellow inquired nervously, "What disease is you all quarantined for, boss?"—Youth's Companion.

Always best not to boom certain summer resorts too loudly until the dog days' sun peeps knowingly over the sky line.

Strawberries three inches around are promised. Think of the cream it will take to smother the monsters!

GERMS IN THE MOUTH.

Using Paper as a Toothpick is a Dangerous Practice.

One of the most dangerous little tricks that men and women do is to take a bit of paper, torn from an envelope or newspaper, and try to run it between the teeth to remove some little particle of food that the tongue feels. If you want to be sure of trouble with your gums continue this practice, and sooner or later—rather sooner than later—you will secure a splendid case of infection of the gums that will send you to the dentist in a hurry, and may cause more than one sleepless night.

The bit of paper used in this way, introduced edgewise between the teeth, is worse than any toothpick, or other instrument, for many reasons. In the first place the sharp edge of the paper is most apt to make a cut in the gum, and in so doing it is almost sure to carry into the circulation at least some of the many germs clinging to it.

Again, the chemicals used in the making of paper are far from edible, but in addition to these the newspaper may have picked up a variety of germs from those who have handled it or from the dust that has blown upon it while exposed for sale.

The flap of the envelope, which is so "handy" a bit to use for the teeth, may have touched the lips of some one with tonsillitis, or even with tuberculosis.—New York American.

Superiority.

"She's a very superior person."

"That so? In what way?"

"She pays more for her gowns than any other woman in the club."—Detroit Free Press.
